Town's Problem: People for Whom PCH Village Was Built Do Not Qualify as Tenants

You support a family of six on $11,750 a year. When you apply for a 4-bedroom apartment in PCH Village's middle-income housing project off Ewing Street on Bunn Drive, they say you'll have to pay $476 a month for a four-bedroom apartment.

"How come, and what happened?" is the cry PCH officials have been hearing ever since pre-application interviews began last month.

Princeton Community Housing, Inc., is the non-profit corporation that has been working and striving for about seven years to bring middle-income housing to the Princeton community. There are 236 apartments in PCH Village.

And if you've had problems understanding why some rents are so high, PCH, Inc. has had problems of its own. PCH Village directors announced this week that steps are being taken to terminate PCH's contract with Jacobson, Goldfarb and Tanzman, the Perth Amboy firm of multi-family housing agents that has been handling applications for the Princeton project.

"We felt that not enough attention was being given to local, Princeton needs and the concerns of Prin-cton residents," said PCH in a brief statement this week. So far, no replacement to the agency has been chosen.

If you filed a pre-application with PCH, your application is still good, and PCH will be in touch with you. For the time being, no more applications are being taken. Work on final details will delay the opening of units past the June 1 occupancy date, PCH said this week.

However, you can visit the site and stop in at the office to ask questions. The office is open from noon to 5 every day except Thursdays. (That includes Saturdays and Sundays). The telephone is 921-1686.

Now, what about those rents?

1. PCH has three categories of rents: low, basic and market. We'll explain below what each means.

2. All rents include utilities. You don't have to pay anything extra for light and heat.

3. "Income" means "adjusted" income. Your actual dollar income is adjusted according to a complex formula worked out by the Federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) agency. It takes into account such things as the number of dependent children (but not baby-sitter fees paid by a working mother), and certain expenses (but not all medical bills).

PCH is faced by two deeply distressing problems. Maybe—just maybe—one of them can be solved.

1. High rents in two of the three categories. These rents are based on the cost of the PCH project itself—$8.3 million—and would be lower if PCH had been built four years ago.

2. Low income-ceilings.

The Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area is the basic unit used by HUD to calculate income levels. Princeton is locked into Mercer County, but is vastly different from the rest of Mercer in the

Superintendent Battle Becoming More Public As School Board and McPherson Spar Again

Although the cold knives were out Tuesday night at the school board meeting, board and superintendent Philip E. McPherson talked more openly and publicly than ever before about their current difficulties.

The board announced it has formally asked for the assistance of the New Jersey School Boards Association in what it calls its "current difficulties" with Dr. McPherson. A team has been named to explore a possible resolution, and Dr. McPherson has been asked to join the discussions.

In another action Tuesday, the board said it was backing down from its decision to pare three 12-month administrative positions down to 10-month jobs. The move re-appoints L. Wesley Johnson to a 12-month post of personnel director and gives him tenure in that job.

Frank Soda and Norman van Arsdalen are also restored to their 12-month positions as assistant principal and administrative assistant to the principal of Princeton High School. The moves grant the grievance request of the Princeton Regional Administrators Association.

In the voting, board member Dietrich Meyerhofer asked that Dr. Johnson's name be separated in the series of resolutions that accomplished the change and, joined by Winthrop Pike, Joan Doig and Dale Madden, he voted against Dr. Johnson's re-appointment.

Mr. Pike explained that although the board has power to create, change or abolish positions, it decided not to pursue the present matter because it was "awkward" and could mean legal action with the state's public employees negotiating organization (PERC).

These actions led Dr. McPherson to ask the board for a re-vote for last month's termination of Elaine Solomon's contract. He told the board its way of ending her contract was "unorthodox," and he pointed to abstentions in the vote, and one absent board member. He cited "consistent and unequivocal professional recommendations" for Mrs. Solomon.

Minutes before, the board had voted 9-0 to make sure Mrs. Solomon receives salary through June, and Mr. Pike pointed out that the board knew a termination date for Mrs. Solomon's services was in that resolution when it voted.

When the time came for the superintendent's report, Dr. McPherson "urgently" asked the board to say specifically what actions it is planning to take regarding his future.

"Do we have to tell?" Mr. Pike asked board attorney Thomas Cook, who replied, "No."

Dr. McPherson said he learned only through Princeton newspapers that the board had discussed filing charges against him and suspending him.

"Growing speculation based on this discussion has created a climate of uncertainty within the staff that is having a detrimental effect on the educational process," he declared, "the staff of this fine school system has been seriously demoralized."

The superintendent said his lawyer has written Mr. Cook asking "clarification" of some questions before advising the superintendent whether to work with the NJSBA inquiry.

"We hope you will join us with the NJSBA," urged board vice-president Hannah Fox, "that's a unanimous board decision."

Mrs. Doig challenged Dr. McPherson's assertion that he has learned of board discussions through the press.

"The board pattern has been to talk directly with you," she said. "In our last formal discussion, we gave you a list, and you never did respond to some of the questions on it. Then you yourself went to the press."

"You told the press you would co-operate," said board member Judith Getis, "if you feel that way, it behooves us all to meet with the NJSBA."

Dr. McPherson said any board changes must be "serious" and were not subject to discussion or negotiation.

"The board wants to resolve differences with you before it considers further legal action," Mrs. Doig persisted, "the board hasn't decided if it wants to go the legal action route. We are seeking compromises but you're taking us farther than we want to go."

"You hadn't really told me that," Dr. McPherson replied, "I'm not aware of any charges that could lead to my removal from office. You must clarify - this uncertainty isn't good for the schools."

"The board's primary concern is what's happening inside the schools," Mrs. Doig said.

The board announced early in the evening that it might appoint an acting Middle School principal and an acting director of staff services at the June meeting. After an edgy skirmish, it voted, 5-3, Robin Wallack abstaining, to go along with Dr. McPherson's plan to have a staff committee interview applicants, all of whom will be from within the system. Mr. Pike, Gail Firestone and Mrs. Getis voted against the superintendent.

Members of the NJSBA team will be Lloyd Newbaker, assistant executive director of the NJSBA; Glen Tucker, the group's director of special projects; Lorraine Gaire, field representative and Dr. David Adler, superintendent of the Newton, N.J. schools.

fact that the Planning Board's 1973 "village" housing proposals, in the mayor's words, "follow a different philosophy" from that of this 100-unit housing project.

The Housing Authority is scheduled to meet June 1 with Federal Housing and Urban Development officials, and hopes for Planning Board decision on the site plan before that time. Mayor Cawley would not predict when the board would have its decision.

OFFICE BUILDING?

Use Variance Asked. MARD Associates' Dr. Arnold Hirsch will go before the Township Zoning Board next Wednesday to ask the board to recommend that Township Committee grant a use variance so MARD can build its two-story office building on North Harrison across from the Princeton Shopping Center. Benedict Yedlin is on the agenda with his four-lot subdivision on Herrontown Road. The landlocked plot needs a private right-of-way (on Mr. Yedlin's own land), and the Planning Board approves of this providing the Zoning Board does.

In smaller matters, the board will hear Cathryn Trenner, 4259 Province Line Road, ask for variances from lot area and lot width requirements to build an addition; David Scott of 314 Western Way, request lot area, lot width, floor-area ratio variances, and a variance to enlarge a prior non-conforming structure; Lawrence Perks, 55 Cuyler Road, request side-yard variances.

Site Plan Under Discussion. "This public housing project involves some very important issues, and the Planning Board wants to cover them all," commented Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley on Tuesday, in reference to the board's executive session Tuesday night on the Yedlin public housing project's site plan.

Some issues are "non-site plan," the mayor said. He mentioned the sociological question involved in separating family units from units for the elderly, the density of the project, and the amount of income people receive.

PCH Rental Problems

Jay Bleiman, Princeton Township mayor, is trying to get HUD officials in Washington to pry Princeton away from its Mercer County base, and to establish income ceilings realistic for the Princeton community.

"The way it is now," Mayor Bleiman says, "the very people for whom PCH Village was built are being excluded."

Procedure Outlined. For example, you have a family of four and you want a 3-bedroom PCH apartment. If your annual adjusted income is no more than $6,800, you qualify for a low-income unit. In this category, you pay only 25 percent of your income: $142 for a 3-bedroom apartment.

But if you earn $6,801, you jump into the basic rent category. This means $250 a month rent for that three-bedroom apartment -- 44 percent of your salary, a whopping amount even if you consider that it includes all utilities. This $250 applies right up to an annual income of $10,150.

If you do make $10,150 a year (adjusted) and no more, the 3-bedroom apartment at $250 a month is costing you only 30 percent of your annual income. HUD thinks that 35 percent of income -- when utilities are included -- is just about what a family can afford to pay in rent.

Now, let's suppose you're like another family of four, applying for a 3-bedroom apartment. You're making $10,151 a year -- just over that basic maximum. This means you jump into the third category; market rent, and your 3-bedroom apartment will cost you $408 a month, or 48 percent -- almost half -- of your annual adjusted salary. PCH would probably turn you down, with regret. It's just too much for a family to take on.

Here in Princeton, a police officer or young school teacher -- the people for whom PCH was conceived -- could be making $12,000 a year. You might agree that with a salary like that, a family of four can afford $250 a month rent. But the maximum income allowed for a family of four seeking a 3-bedroom apartment, is $10,150. It is in cases like these, Mayor Bleiman and PCH directors point out, that the scale ironically cuts out the very people PCH was meant to serve.

Over-Qualified. Consider the case of a divorced woman with one child. She'd like a 2-bedroom apartment. Suppose she earns $6,000 a year. That's too much to qualify her for a low-income unit, so she would be jumped to basic rent, where the 2-bedroom unit for two people costs $220 a month. She would be paying 44 percent of her income just for rent and utilities. But if she could find a better job at $7,500 a year, she'd be paying only 35 percent of her income for rent, and would be well off, by HUD standards.

In fact, only people in this very narrow income band -- from $7,500 to $7,965 (the maximum allowed income for two people in a two-bedroom apartment) find any bargain in this category.

Singles and the elderly find the picture brighter. A single man or woman making $12,000 a year can get a one-bedroom apartment for $238 -- only 24 percent of the annual adjusted income, and a real bargain. In fact, the ceiling in this category is $17,136 and a single person in that bracket paying only $238 in rent has a nice deal indeed.

A retired couple, perhaps with an income of $4,800 a year, would fall into the low-income category, and could rent a one-bedroom apartment for $123. In fact, their income could go up to $7,965 -- almost $8,000 a year -- and they'd only have to pay $166 a month for a one-bedroom unit in the basic rent category.

Duplexes Ready First. Incidentally, there is tremendous demand for the one-bedroom units. They won't be ready until January, and they will be in the mid-rise building. Only townhouse duplexes will be ready this summer and fall.

PCH's board of directors would very much like to have PCH Village reflect the entire Princeton community. They want to rent one-bedroom units to couples making $2,304 a year (the lowest salary on all three scales). They want to rent 3-bedroom units for $408 to the family of four or five making $23,460 a year -- the top salary in all three scales -- and a 4-bedroom unit at $476 to the family of eight making that same $23,460.

What is the way out? How can these binds be loosened, and the particular and peculiar needs of Princeton met?

The present "old 235-236" law sets income ceilings for the "basic" category at 135 percent of the income ceilings of straight public housing, like the projects in the Borough's Housing Authority. If public housing income ceilings could be raised, PCH's basic ceilings could be, too. But Mayor Bleiman thinks this would not only take too long, but might be disruptive to existing public housing policies.

"So that's out," he says definitively.

A Ray of Hope. The new Federal housing law, passed last year, has a Section 8 which provides the ray of hope. It allows projects like PCH to use a percentage of the median income in the area as the ceiling figure. For Princeton, locked into Mercer County, this would probably mean only $300 or $400 more.

But in next door Middlesex County, with a different median income, for the whole county, income ceilings are $3,000 to $4,000 higher than Princeton's.

"We could really function, if we had the Middlesex figures," Mayor Bleiman says.

If they were in effect, it could mean that the Princeton police officer, the Princeton teacher earning $12,000 to $15,000 a year, could get a 4-bedroom apartment for $275 a month and "middle-income housing" would have meaning.

To this end, Mayor Bleiman has talked with HUD economists in Camden. They have guidelines and some freedom of movement, the mayor reports, but aren't allowed to touch Section 8. That must come from Washington.

Mayor Bleiman has already been in touch with Congressional Representative Millicent Fenwick's office, and his next move is to the Washington office of HUD.

Based on Financing. Those rent categories, in case you're interested, are related to the way PCH Village has been financed. The low-income category -- there are 24 units here and PCH hopes for 48 -- allows tenants to pay a straight 25 percent of their income for rent. HUD pays the difference between this and the next step, the "basic" rents.

These basic rents reflect the HUD subsidy that brings the interest on PCH's mortgage with the New Jersey Housing Finance Agency down to 1 percent. It's a 48-year mortgage.

The third category, the one with the highest rents, is the market rent category. These rents are based on the cost of the project and reflect some subsidies: PCH's seed money from the state, the Housing Finance Agency mortgage and the 15 percent tax abatement from Princeton Township. Without these subsidies, rents here would be even higher.

Some people have been saying that PCH pays no taxes to the Township, but this isn't so. The project pays 15 percent of its gross shelter rents in lieu of taxes.

"We want to find out who in Washington is empowered to do what," Mayor Bleiman says, "and who can get us out. It's a crazy situation."

Township Seeking Ways to Continue Its Expiring Salvage Program

Retired newspapers are a glut on the market. Nobody even wants them on the shelf. That's why the Rescue Mission is giving up re-cycling trips to Princeton (and Lawrence and West Windsor) Township. Re-cycling in the Township ends with the final pick-ups Friday, May 30.

"But I hate to drop it and lose the momentum," said Township Committee member Margaret Broadwater Monday night. "How about a bin in the Shopping Center for glass?"

The Rescue Mission has said it's not economical to travel to Princeton just to pick up glass.

"How about storing newspapers in the Tiger Garage (just purchased by the Township) until the price goes back up again?" Mrs. Broadwater persisted.

Prodded by her, Committee asked Township Engineer Joseph Hodak to find out the cost of bins in which residents could toss tonic bottles, and to explore, in general, the market for used glass. It is expected that the Rescue Mission will take another look at the situation at the end of August—a three-month vacation from recycling. Mr. Hodak said the Township doesn't have enough manpower to take on the job itself.

Buses Had Big Day. It's so nice to be wanted: Princeton University has asked if it can use Princeton's loop buses for Reunion week-end, June 6-8. Loop bus people, Committee member Elizabeth Hutter in particular, are still giddy with the success of Saturday, May 10, when a record 1,690 people rode the buses to and from the crew races. Princeton University's Office of Community and Regional Affairs chartered the buses for that day and gave Princeton a huge profit of $62.75.

Committee praised Mrs. Hutter, who had put together the whole May 10 package on four hours' notice, and it was decided that if reunion classes will cover any deficits, the bus people may go ahead and charter the buses out once again.

Elderly passengers—62 and over—can ride the loop bus free between 10 and 2, Committee ruled. Identification cards will be required, either a Medicare card or a card obtained by sending in a state

Where's Tax Bill?

No sleepless nights, please, when your Borough tax bill doesn't arrive June 1, as always. It'll be along June 15, without fail and with a new category: your sewer charge.

The new Borough ordinance separating out the sewer charge from the regular tax bill has meant delay in getting out tax bills for this quarter. State law says those bills must be out by June 1, but so far, no mayor seems to have gone to jail because the bills were a few days late.

The late arrival of the bill, incidentally, doesn't apply to your payment.

property to a point on the other side a bit below Greenhouse Drive.

Police are concerned, Committee learned, because the path would be only 300 feet below the brow of the hill in a 45 m.p.h. zone. Cyclists looking up the hill to see whether a car is coming, wouldn't have much time, nor would the car itself. Committeeman Abbot Low Moffat suggested the Traffic Safety Committee examine the site. The crossing would be painted on the pavement and not governed by traffic signals.

"It's been a long time a-borning, and I'm glad it has arrived," Mr. Moffat observed, as Committee introduced its brand new site plan ordinance, the one that's like the Borough's. Public hearing Monday, June 16.

It was a somewhat lengthy birth. For more than half an hour, Committee paced the floor, laboring over this and that until finally Mayor Jay Bleiman said, "I'd like the minutes to read that Committee played around a while with this ordinance," and municipal attorney Gordon Griffin said he was afraid "the drug people will be after us, with all these 'fixes.'"

Matter of Definition. The most serious debate concerned the definition of "altering" the land, which the ordinance is very stern about.

"If you plant a rose bed, you alter the land, but that would be all right," Mr. Griffin said. "You just can't denude a forest."

"Ah, ha!" Mayor Bleiman said, reminding Mr. Griffin that Bryce Thompson, who owns timbered land on Poor Farm Road has begun harvesting.

"Will we require a permit to harvest timber, when we don't require a permit to harvest corn?" Mr. Moffat demanded.

Mr. Griffin observed that Mr. Thompson's harvesting followed good timber practices, and was like farming, although he conceded it was "a borderline case."

Authority Essential. "If you take 'altering the land' literally, you couldn't turn over a spade of earth," Mr. Griffin reminded Committee, but he added that it's an extremely important part of the site plan ordinance because it gives a public body authority in a questionable case.

A companion ordinance puts major subdivisions under site-plan requirements. The Borough's public hearing on the ordinance will be June 10.

Committee put off until June 2 introduction of an ordinance requiring three years, instead of the present one year between minor subdivisions of the same plot of land. The Planning Board asked for this ordinance, uneasy about developers who nibble away at a big slice of land with minor subdivisions. These don't require extension of municipal facilities or new streets, and save a developer quite a lot of money.

William Sutphin, of Committee, protested the amendment "burdened the wrong people," in requiring a small property owner to wait three years.

Mr. Griffin conceded that three years is indeed a long time for small land-owners who have perhaps inherited some land and want to develop it "retail" rather than "wholesale."

Permits Waived. The ordinance tagged by Mr. Griffin as "Sutphin's Law," because he introduced it, passed Monday. It exempts political campaigners from rules on the distribution of circulars. You don't need a police permit.

No aluminum wiring in the Township. Committee adopted the 1975 edition of the national electrical code—dating from 1968—but prohibited aluminum wires unless they're used outside in large sizes.

All installations over $500 will require inspection. Committee kept this figure, although the updated code sets a $1,000 figure. Mr. Sutphin observed that a lot of home wiring is considerably under $1,000.

Committee agreed to refund $43,515 in the performance bond of the Thanet Corporation, pending Thanet's filing of a deed to the Township for the retention basin easement. Mrs. Hutter chided Thanet for leaving banks unseeded except for weeds and dirt, but Mr. Hodak assured her he had reminded Thanet of this. The site involved is the one where the

LUGGAGE, STAMPS TAKEN
In Palmer Square Thefts. Two pieces of luggage valued at $35 and $32 were stolen Monday from Luttman's Luggage on Palmer Square.

Police said that a window on the west side of the building had been broken to enter.

A window pane at the rear of custom tailor Josef Borg, 57 Palmer Square, was broken last week by someone who then reached in and removed $10 in postage stamps from a counter. Police said that the shop was not entered.

While Ptl. Gerald Patterson was investigating this theft, he discovered that the Tavernwood Beauty Manor, 69 Palmer Square, had been broken into in the same manner. Nothing appears to have been taken.

A portable TV set valued at $80 and two 12-inch speakers ($80) were stolen last week from a building at 20 Library Place owned by Princeton Theological Seminary.

First long weekend
in the sun
And in July
Another one!

The first long weekend in sun is being preceded by the first heat wave, with the 90-degree mark under seige rather early in the year. (In 1962, however, it was the 100-degree mark that almost toppled in May as the thermometer hit 99 on May 19th that year.)

Logically enough, the Man says that all this warmth may draw showers at the end of each day. He says they are a good possibility both Friday and Saturday, with cooler weather expected by Sunday.

removed a screen from a ground floor window to enter. The victim is a Seminary student.

Mary Conway of the Princeton Inn College told Township police last week that she lost $30 when her room was ransacked when she left it unoccupied between 6 and 6:45 last Wednesday.

Jackie Turner, an employee at International Schools Services, 126 Alexander Street, lost between $30 and $50 when a thief removed her wallet from her purse which she had left behind in her office. She told police that she had been gone from 1:15 to 1:45.

$282 Stolen From Car. Two Lawrenceville residents, Rose Berger and Wolfgang Depenbrock lost $282 when their car was entered while they were playing tennis last week at the Community Park courts. Police said that the car, left in the Community Park lot, was unlocked.

Township police have charged two Princeton juveniles, 15 and 14, with the theft of a used carburetor from a mower in front of Jim's Mower Service, 749 State Road

Police said that a witness saw the boys flee south on Route 206 on bicycles. An alarm was sent out and the two were apprehended about a quarter of a mile away by Ptl. Renn Kaminski. They were turned over to Juvenile Officer Anthony Pinelli for processing.

The two allegedly wanted the carburetor for use in a mini bike.

TWO BIKES STOLEN

From PHS Grounds. Two bicycles were stolen last week at Princeton High School, one a 10-speed model valued at $400. Its cable lock had been cut.

Two high school students, 15 and 17, have been arrested in connection with the theft and turned over to juvenile officer Douglas Watson for further action. A 10-speed yellow bicycle taken the same day and valued at $120 has not been recovered.

Car Tires Slashed. Borough police also report the slashing of all four tires on two parked cars. "We're talking about a lot of money when all four tires are cut," commented Chief Michael Carnevale.

One car was parked in the Franklin Terrace lot near the owner's home. On Saturday, four Michelin tires were cut on a car parked in the Nassau Inn lot. The owner is a Riverside Drive resident.

TWELVE ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Among twelve Princeton area residents fined Monday in Borough traffic court were four for speeding and four for stop sign violations.

Speeders include Peter H. Rice of Griggstown, $20; Cynthia J. Gordon, 4 Hawk Drive, Princeton Junction, $15; and Sheila M. Stuart, 20 Maple Lane, Pennington, and Joyce B. Hoy, River Road, Belle Mead, both $16. Stop-sign fines were levied against Yuzo Harada, 126 Graduate College, $25; Fung Y. Liu, 7 Wycombe Way, Princeton Junction, $20; Samuel O. Olofin, Graduate College, $15; and Roger M. Bollentin, 30 Baker Court, $20. Mr. Bollentin paid a second fine of $20 for allowing a passenger without a helmet to ride on his motorcycle.

Anthony Ferrara, 476 North Harrison Street, and Camillo Procaccini, 482 North Harrison, paid $25 and $20 for careless driving. An improper turn at a traffic light cost Selma L. Ehrlich, 145 South Main Street, Pennington, $25 and Joan N. Doig, 12 College Road, paid $15 for a red light infraction.

FOUR ARE ARRESTED

On separate Charges. Borough police last week arrested four men wanted on various charges.

James Hall, 23, 44 Birch Avenue, was arrested in the Pink Elephant by Sgt. Thomas Michaud and Ptl. Joseph Wilhelm, who had a warrant charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses, passing a forged check and possession of stolen property.

Police said the charges stemmed from the theft of an income tax return made out to a Murray Place resident. Bail was set at $250. Hall was scheduled to appear in Borough court this Wednesday.

After his release he was turned over to a state parole officer, who had a warrant charging Hall with parole violation.

George L. McGowan Jr., 51, 246 John Street, was arrested by Detectives Timothy Huizing and Ronald Holliday on John and Clay Streets.

McGowan had been charged with forgery and attempting to obtain money under false pretenses in connection with the theft of a government check from a Lytle Street resident. He, too, was scheduled to appear in court this Wednesday.

Arrested at the same time as McGowan was George W. Kornegay, 21, of the 246 John Street address.

He has been charged by Sgt. Thomas Procaccino with using loud and profane language and threatening to take the life of the owner of a rooming house at 184 Witherspoon Street.

Princeton's Annual Memorial Day Parade To Be Held on Nassau Street Friday at 7

Sponsored by American Legion Posts 76 and 218, the annual Memorial Day parade will march Friday at 7 p.m. up Nassau Street from Princeton Avenue to the Battle Monument. Led by Princeton Borough and Township and West Windsor officials, the line of march will include parade officials D. Don Richards, chairman, Post 76, and John Brown, Chairman, Post 218.

Also partaking will be Department and County American Legion officials; Post 76 and 218 commanders, members and presidents; Princeton University and Rider College ROTC color guard; the Princeton Fire companies' color guards; four drum and bugle corps; the Gino Mule Band of Trenton, boy scout and girl scout troops; and, bringing up the rear, the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad and Princeton fire engines. Riding in a car will be Mrs. Houston Scott Foulke, daughter of the first commander of Post 76, and Mrs. Herman N. Archer, whose husband was on the Bataan "death march" in World War II.

In ceremonies at Battle Monument at the conclusion of to March, 1974, James Tilton, 28, of Trenton was arrested Thursday in Mercer County Jail on a Borough police detainer charging him with molesting a female juvenile on Nassau Street.

Bail was set at $200. Tilton was scheduled to appear in court this Wednesday.

STREAKERS STREAK

Rites of Spring Observed. A fast moving band of male streakers, estimated at 50, left the University campus Friday night and made a few stops around town.

One, according to the police docket, was a stop at the Garden Theater at 10:48. Previous stops included a splash in the Woodrow Wilson School fountain, Firestone Library, the Pub, the A&S Luncheonette on Nassau Street and McCosh 10, where a standing room only audience was watching Humphrey Bogart in "Casablanca."

One streaker was quoted as saying, "Bogie would have the parade, American Legion Department of New Jersey Commander James H. Hall will be the principal speaker at approximately 8:15. The Rev. Floyd N. Rhodes will give the invocation and the Rev. Monsignor J. J. Endebrock of St. Paul's will give the benediction.

On Sunday, Post 218 will conduct memorial services at 9:30 near the flagpole in Princeton Cemetery. The service will be under the direction of Commander Richard Silvis, and the Rev. Leon Gibson will give the prayer. Post 76 will hold a military mass, at St. Paul's Church at 10, following firing ceremonies at 9:30 in the cemetery near the flag pole. Frank Tylus will be the commentator at the church mass, which is under the supervision of the Rev. Msgr. Endebrock.

Members of Posts 76 and 218 will place flags on some 1,000 veteran's graves in Princeton, St. Paul's, Dutch Neck and West Windsor cemeteries. Additional flags for graves which may have been missed may be obtained from the rectory at St. Paul's or the caretaker of Princeton cemetery.

approved." The group was reported to have included baseball and rugby players. Some walked across the hoods of stopped cars on Nassau Street, startling the drivers.

About a half dozen streaked through the Princeton Inn College. Proctors dismissed the prank as one of the annual rites of spring but this brought a retort from Chief Michael Carnevale. "There's nothing 'annual' about streaking," he said. "It hasn't been going on that long."

SIGMUND?

For Freeholder. Barbara Sigmund, incumbent Borough Council member who is running for re-election, is being mentioned as the appointed successor to the late Charles Farrington on the Mercer County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Like Mr. Farrington, Mrs. Sigmund is a Princeton resident and a Democrat. She has declined to comment on rumors that she might be named to Freeholder Farrington's seat.

A replacement for the late Mr. Farrington probably won't be named until after the primaries on June 3. The six Freeholders will choose a replacement who would then have to run for re-election in November for the full three-year Freeholder term.

STUDENT CHARGED

With Racing. Edoardo Agnelli, 20, of 1942 Hall Princeton University has been issued four traffic summonses, following his arrest Saturday night for racing another car on Borough streets.

Free in 10 percent of $250 bail, Agnelli has been charged with reckless driving, racing on highway, no registration in possession and not being a licensed New Jersey driver. He is scheduled to appear in Court June 16.

Responding to numerous complaints that two Fiat sport cars were racing around Prospect, William and Patton Avenue, Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt and Ptl. Kerry Klink gave chase and managed to stop Agnelli's car in the lot of the former IDA building off Prospect.

"We're still looking for a red Fiat," said Chief Michael Carnevale.

FORSYPEK

Meet the Candidate. Arthur Sypek, seeking the Democratic nomination for the new Mercer County executive post, will be guest at two meet-the-candidate events next week.

Next Tuesday, Jan Schneider and Joseph Stonaker will be hosts at their home, 100 Jefferson Road, from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. Samuel and Dede Nini will be hosts at a wine and cheese party next Friday, May 30, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at their home, 75 Littlebrook Road.

DELAYS ON ROUTE 206

From Widening Project.

Motorists can expect intermittent traffic delays on U.S. Route 206 between Darrah Lane and Interstate Route 295, Lawrence Township, where workmen are excavating along the shoulder of the northbound roadway, the Department of Transportation announced.

Although two lanes of traffic will be maintained at all times, motorists will be directed through the work area by flagmen and safety cones from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The work, to last until mid-June, is part of a project to widen and repave Route 206 from Little Shabakunk Creek to Route 295, which, when completed in July, will provide two 13-foot-wide travel lanes, left turn slots at seven locations and a traffic signal at the main entrance to Rider College.

HERE'S HOW FOR STEAK EN BROCHETTE: Peter Vielbig demonstrates, for Mrs. James R. Bergman and Mrs. Donald V. Reed, preparations for the main item of the buffet dinner at the Great Party on May 30.

FETE TO HOLD PARTY
Preceding Evening. There will be a Great Party Friday, May 30, from 6:30 to midnight with buffet dinner and dancing in the big tent at the Fete grounds on Washington Road. All are welcome to attend.

The buffet dinner, served at 8, will be steak en brochette and hordelaise sauce, rice pilaf, tossed salad, hot French bread, and cheesecake with fresh strawberries, seconds allowed. A cash bar will be open from 6:30 (no bottles or minors permitted).

Dancing is from 8 to 12, to the music of a Mike Carney band and singer Harriett Fay with her electric piano. Special attractions include "The Orient Express," the successor to last year's fun-house-on-wheels "The Sting."

Proceeds go to the benefit of the Princeton Medical Center at Princeton. Tickets are $25 per couple and reservations are limited by the size of the tent. Checks should be made payable to the June Fete and mailed to Mrs. Arthur F. Hopper III, 197 Carter Road. Guests should use the main entrance to the tent, on the far side from the Fete grounds, and leave cars in the main parking lot.

This party is open to the public. For reservations, call 924-0947. Deadline for reservations is this Monday, May 26.

MEETING PLANNED
By County Services Project. The public is invited to review and comment on plans being developed by the Mercer County Services Integration Project Wednesday, May 28, from 3-5:30 at Borough Hall. More than 100 community volunteers have been working since January on this project which they hope will make effective health and social services available to everyone in Mercer County whenever they are needed.

Mrs. Martha J. Crowley, Steering Committee Chairman, will conduct the meeting. Mrs. Martha Karraer and Dr. Dominick Iorio, co-chairmen of the Information and Referral Task Force, and Russell Lupo and Nathaniel Cobb, co-chairmen of the Social Service Plan Task Force, will each discuss plans that their respective task forces are drawing up.

The Services Integration Project is the only one of its kind in New Jersey. The Mercer County Board of Chosen Freeholders is the recipient of a three-year local planning grant from the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare to develop plans for Mercer to improve human services delivery for all residents. The Greater Mercer Comprehensive Planning Council has been delegated by the Freeholders to operate this project.

Volunteers from the Princeton area serving on the project steering committee or on task forces are Barbara Sigmund, Jacqueline Johnson, Janet Pearson and Ross Wilbur. The task forces are developing a county-wide information-referral-feedback system and a social service plan which will be of assistance to County government in fulfilling its responsibilities in areas of human services. Task force members are general citizens, consumers of service, and providers of health and social services.

For more information prior to the meeting, call Mrs. Sally Grossman, project director, 396-1583.

4-H SHOW PLANNED
in West Windsor. In keeping with the Bicentennial, Mercer County 4-H clubs of the Cooperative Extension Service will present 4-H on Parade, a fashion revue at the West Windsor-Plainsboro High School May 30 at 8 p.m. Admission is free.

According to Mrs. Dixie Curtice, Mercer County 4-H Agent, the purpose of the Revue, beside providing the 4-H members with an opportunity to model clothing sewn in 4-H projects, is to present the public with an example of 4-H activities.

Adult advisor Janet Everett and 4-H Chairwomen Debbie Vandegrift, Holly Holman and Linda Pickens, who are students at West Windsor High School, are organizing the group, who range from 9 to 19. Homemaking students of West Windsor-Plainsboro High School are being invited to participate.

APPOINTMENT MADE

As Visiting Scholar at Hun.
Linda H. Kirschner, Princeton author and educator, has been named a Visiting Scholar in the field of Feminism and Women in Literature at The Hun School.

Mrs. Kirschner, of 32
Randall Road, is the author of the new work "By Women: An Anthology of Literature," and has co-authored, with her husband Allen, three volumes of readings on journalism, film and radio-television. As a Visiting Scholar at Hun, Mrs.
Kirschner conducts weekly seminars on the self-image and status of women, as well their quest for love and the scope of their dreams, as reflected in the works of such writers as Virginia Woolf,
Charlotte Gilman, Mary
McCarthy, Sarah Jewett,
Emily Dickinson and Anais
Nin.

The Visiting Scholar
Program, in its second year at Hun, is funded by the Edward E. Ford Foundation to promote the joy of scholarship and prepare students for college-level seminar work.

MAN EXPOSES HIMSELF

On Rollingmead. Township
police are searching for a man who exposed himself to a 20-year old woman last week on Rollingmead near Little Brook Road.

Police said that the man
made a remark to the woman, a Snowden Lane resident who was riding her bike. Thinking she knew him, she went over to his car and he exposed himself. He was described as white, about 20, with sandy colored hair and wearing sunglasses. He was driving a white car.

Broadened Applicant Pools Seen by University As Key to 'Best Faculty and Staff Obtainable'

Princeton University has announced an Affirmative Action Report and revised Affirmative Action Plan that envisions the employment and advancement of the best faculty and staff obtainable, regardless of sex or race, from broadened applicant pools.

The plan, forwarded to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare by the University's Provost and Affirmative Action Officer, Sheldon Hackney, succeeds the institution's initial plan of March 3, 1972, which has expired. In accord with federal regulations, the plan includes statistical analyses and projections of employment patterns in faculty and non-faculty areas.

These projections are made on the basis of current information concerning the numbers of persons likely to be available and qualified for University appointments. The plan, which is now effective and covers the next six years, is to be monitored and revised periodically as changing conditions become known.

The report reviews the performance of the University in attracting talented women and members of minority groups, as well as other ac-

Improvement Noted. The plan emphasizes, however, that "no recitation of numbers of new hires or of special policies or programs can capture the improvement that we believe has been made in the overall educational and work environment of the University these last few years. As always, there is more to be done, but certainly there is increasing awareness of the importance of Affirmative Action now, and increasing sensitivity to the human needs -- and opportunities -- that it represents. The preparation of this Plan, a process that has involved a large number of people throughout the University, has itself contributed to this increased awareness and sensitivity."

The projections in the plan, made at a time when for economic reasons the faculty and staff are being reduced, outline "what we hope to accomplish over the next six years in the area of University employment." Insofar as the faculty is concerned, the plan is based on a commitment "to do all that we can to identify and attract those individuals with the greatest ability to be leaders in their fields of knowledge as well as outstanding teachers and effective contributors to the general life of the University. To proceed any other way," according to the report, "would be to interfere not only with the ability of the University to achieve its educational mission, but also with the goals of Affirmative Action itself."

Based on probability estimates derived from the best current data, projections in the plan include, for example, the employment of approximately 36 additional women and approximately 16 additional minority group individuals to help fill an estimated 197 non-tenured faculty positions over the coming six-year period. Also, the same method of analysis suggests that the University might expect about seven women and one minority group person to be promoted to tenured positions from within. For the small number of outside appointments at tenure levels expected each year (the recent record is approximately six per year), the plan describes the virtual impossibility of developing meaningful statistics for persons available, and pledges a good faith effort to seek women and minority persons in recruiting the best available candidates.

An analysis of the ten major administrative and support staffs shows 915 positions in five HEW job classifications (technicians, craftsmen, operatives, laborers, and service workers) are presently filled. Of these, 88 are held by women and 290 by minority personnel. The plan's projections for these job classifications (in these offices) envision net increases over the next six years of 85 women and 9 persons from minority groups.

It is emphasized, however, that all of these numbers are based on calculations of a probabilistic kind. The actual numbers of persons hired will depend upon the availability of openings and the characteristics of the best candidate for each opening that develops.

The plan was developed over a period of months and in mid-April a draft of some 200 pages was circulated for comment in the Princeton University community.

"There was an extraordinary level of participation by individuals and interested groups within the University in its development," said Mr. Hackney. "More than 200 thoughtful and substantive suggestions were received; all of these have been studied and many were incorporated in the preparation of the final document."

COUNCIL HONORS TWO

At Annual Meeting. Sarah Strayer Wilhelm and Liston Abbott of Hightstown are the dual winners of the 1975 Council of Community Services Award for distinguished volunteer service to the community.

Mrs. Wilhelm, a Princeton resident for almost 40 years, is currently president of the board of the Family Service Agency. She has served as a founder of the Princeton Co-operative Nursery School, vice-president of Princeton Borough Board of Education and president during the consolidation period, vice-president of the board of the Princeton Adult School, president of the PTA of the Nassau Street School and of Princeton High School. Mrs. Wilhelm has also served on the Municipal Study Group for Rent Control and the Executive Committee of the board of the Princeton Area United Community Fund.

The award pays tribute to Mrs. Wilhelm for "her warmth, openness, and genuine interest in all people and for the clear thinking and sense of humor she has brought to each task."

The awards were presented at the annual meeting of the Council of Community Services which urged regional planning to cope with the multi-faceted problems posed by growth. The social problems created by an influx of population that outnumbers the local people were discussed.

Professionals and volunteers in health care, recreation and counseling agencies reported their problems in a rapidly growing and changing region: increasing demands for human services, drains on private funding, and competition for tax dollars.

Because of transportation problems, for instance, many people in need have difficulty reaching the main facilities of service agencies. Therefore agencies have been trying to identify the pockets of need and go to the people.

Hospital Fete Promise: Something for Everyone

WALLY THE WATCHDOG with Scotty Petrone, Mrs. Peter H. Soderberg, Sonya Soderberg, Rebecca Savidge and Mrs. G. Peter Savidge. Watch out for Wally in the Children's Area at the Great Fete - he will be watching out for someone to give him a good home. Big, but soft and cuddly, he has a nice red tongue but feeding him is no problem. He won't track mud in the house, or jump on the furniture, or bite your friends. Wally is an ideal pet and some little boy or girl can take him home on May 31.

Even the youngest toddler who can pat baby lambs in the Petting Zoo will have fun at the Great Fete on Saturday, May 31. Bigger brothers and sisters will find games galore, tests of skill for prizes, and fun in good condition which one child has outgrown but another will enjoy. From 10 to 2, a Silent Auction will accept bids for various baby things and small children's sweaters, etc.

Midway. On the Midway there will be popular games of skill for prizes, like the Dart Throw, Saucer Pitch, Ring Toss and Skittles. Also that perennial favorite where the best prize is the result - the People Dunk.

Antique Cars. In the big tent, the Antique Car Show will be on display until mid-afternoon. Some of these classics are being driven from towns a considerable distance from Princeton. Car buffs should make a special point of seeing them at the Fete, because they are rarely on Nassau Street.

The Elephant Stomp. From 4 to 6, the big tent will be the scene of the Elephant Stomp, a teen dance to the music of two well-known rock bands. Tickets are $1, and will be sold in advance at schools as well as on the day of the Fete.

Auction. There are two camper-trailers which will be up for bids this year, as well as a station wagon, and the equipment for a complete kitchen - stainless steel sink with counter, double oven, four-burner stove top, and refrigerator, all nearly new.

Donations are still being accepted - furniture, silver, china, or whatever. All donations are tax deductible; for information or pick-up call Mrs. James Love 924-3576, or Mrs. Peter Groff 924-7435.

Parking. Parking on the field will be $1 per car, and a wind-shield sticker will permit any number of trips in and out. Free bus service will start at 9 from Nassau and Chambers; after 10 there will be stops at the Library Parking Lot, Shopping Center parking lot near Bamberger's, and the Harrison Street bus stop opposite the condominium apartments.

of all kinds in the Children's Area. Older members of the family will enjoy the games on the Midway, and for teenagers there will be dancing to rock music at the Elephant Stomp in the afternoon.

The Children's Area can be found behind the big mascot elephant, (not a real one,) and is guarded by Wally the Watchdog. Wally watches over games for the very young like the Fish Pond or Spin and Win, (where everybody wins.)

Then there is Pick-a-Pen where styrofoam blocks conceal red or blue pens. Red ones win a prize for the picker, for blues you still get the pen. The old favorite, the Make-Up booth, will be back with a photographer to record the new faces.

Good ball throwers can play Hit-the-Cat or try to win a goldfish. Computer games are the latest thing, with push buttons to play ping-pong or test bowling skill. Young hockey players can take a shot at Puck-a-Luck and win a prize if they score.

Lots of Clowns. The Pocket Lady will be found walking around the area with grab-bag pockets full of hand-made gifts at various prices. Real live clowns will be around, too, doing tricks and adding to the fun.

A ride on a real fire engine from Princeton Engine Co. No. 1 is a great thrill, and so is riding a real pony or, for the very young, a ride in a pony cart. An old-fashioned hay ride is great and there will be a wagon drawn by mules to provide one. Everybody who remembers The Sting last year will love the Orient Express, the all new crazy fun house on wheels that must be seen to be believed.

Win a Radio. A special feature is the Balloon Send-Off of helium-filled balloons with returnable cards attached. At 3 they will be released over the Fete grounds to be wind blown over the countryside. Finders of the balloons when they return to earth are asked to mail in the attached card, and the lucky owner whose card is returned from the greatest distance wins a transistor radio.

The Treasure Chest is a real treasure hunt. Ticket holders get a grab for one of the small toys buried in a barrel of sawdust, and a chance to win a prize from a collection of much bigger toys.

For parents, Toyland offers a toy shop selling many games, puzzles, and other toys

After a career in the arts spanning more than 40 years, 73-year-old artist Rex Goreleigh is looking forward to continuing his career—after he graduates from college. Mr. Goreleigh is currently a second semester junior at Livingston College of Rutgers University and will graduate next year after completing a special two-year program that takes into account previous college work as well as extensive prior work experience credits.

A resident of Princeton on Canal Road off Alexander, he visits the college once a week to take 12 credits, including an independent study curriculum. He received all "1's" (the highest grade at the State University) during the first semester.

Next year he will begin a special project in the Department of Urban Communications on murals as a form of communication. His study may result in a mural somewhere on the campus, he notes.

Mr. Goreleigh's career which began in the '30s as a muralist and then instructor in the federal WPA project, was enhanced when he was sent by art patrons to study in France, Germany and Finland. Later, he was involved in establishment of an art center in Greensboro, N.C., study at the University of Chicago and direction of Chicago's South Side Community Center.

Headed Group Arts. The Pennsylvania native found his permanent home in New Jersey when, in 1947, he became director of Princeton Group Arts for six years. Since 1955 he has been free-lancing, teaching and running his "Studio on the Canal" in Princeton.

His work in recent years, besides active painting, has included teaching as an occupational therapist at the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute and service as instructor and artist-in-residence at Trenton State College.

Mr. Goreleigh is perhaps best known for depicting the plight of the migrant worker in central New Jersey in a series started in 1962. The "migrant series" consisting of a dozen oils and some 15 water colors has been shown in numerous places and the artist hopes that someday the work will appear as a mural.

What brought him to Livingston College was a burning desire throughout his life to finish his education. "I had a great sense of purpose and I said, well, I'm going to do it, and I followed through," he relates.

He says he gets a special pleasure "seeing all those young people around me," and reports that at first they would hold the door for him and say "after you, sir." But now it's "Hi, Rex, what's happening?"

His first semester courses included literature, art and sculpture and, most important for him, basic writing. "I used to write in long, colorful sentences," he says, "but the course has taught me to get to the point quickly."

He's so "turned on" by the writing course that he says he's "thinking about writing a novel." But his immediate career goal, after getting his degree, is teaching. "And I'm looking forward to a very, very good career," he says.

RECYCLING

Final recycling for Princeton Township, Lawrence Township and West Windsor will be the last week in May. After that the Rescue Mission will not pick up glass or newspapers on schedule for at least 90 days. A glut of newspapers is the reason for the cancellation. It is not profitable for the Mission to pick up glass only.

Princeton Township: Final recycling will begin Tuesday, May 27. Voting districts 2, 3, 9 and 12—normally picked up on Monday—will be picked up Tuesday (Monday is a holiday). Collections will be made at curb-side as usual: Tuesday, Districts 5 and 10 (as well as Monday's); Wednesday, 1 and 4; Thursday, 6 and 7; Friday, 8, 11 and 13.

Lawrence Township: May 23 will be the final collection.

West Windsor: May 28 will be the final collection.

West Windsor: May 28 will be the final collection.

Princeton Borough: The Borough is unaffected by the Rescue Mission. Wednesday, May 28, is GREEN GLASS.

Montgomery Township: Unaffected by the Rescue Mission. Second Saturday of each month (next May 10 at Montgomery Township High School). Glass, clear or colored, separated. Newspapers and magazines: clean and bundled or bagged. Metal aluminum, bi-metal and tin (steel): clean, separated, cans with tops and bottoms removed, and flattened.

On Hightstown Road. Installation of a new traffic control system has been completed by the State Department of Transportation at the intersection of the Princeton-Hightstown Road and Wallace Road-Cranbury Road in West Windsor Township. According to Mercer County Freeholder Gilbert W. Lugosy, the new system provides for semi-actuated signals with pedestrian push buttons and an advance warning red signal ahead sign for east-bound Route 571 traffic.

The State will pay 75 percent and the County 25 percent of the $22,000 total installation cost. The Township of West Windsor will pay the annual electrical current operating cost for the traffic signal system.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part or all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Giggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 15 cents.

The Right Kind of Democrat.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
Charles Farrington was a politician in the best sense of that word for he recognized the need for government in a civilized society. He was a democrat (with a small "d") because he believed that a free people must govern themselves. He was a Democrat (with a big "D") because he believed devoutly in our system of political parties.

He was a public servant too little known and appreciated by the public he served with dedication much of his adult life. He was, perhaps to his own disadvantage but certainly to our great benefit, always fair and honest and gentle.

Forthright to all while remaining essentially kind, even to his opponents (there was never anyone he considered an "enemy"). He was helpful and generous with younger and less skilled people who frequently sought him out for the wisdom of his counsel and the decency of his advice.

Those of us who knew and worked with him over the years, admired and respected him and we will miss him sorely; all of us, whether we realize it or not, will miss his mind and his heart in the political affairs of this county and this state.

R.W. VANDE VELDE
222 Western Way

Festival Curtailed

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is the text of a letter sent to the Princeton Arts Council:

As a member organization of the Princeton Arts Council, the Princeton Folk Music Society would like to praise the Arts Council for attempting to provide Princeton with a new experience this year with the Bicentennial Celebration. In this alternative to the Art People Parties of the past three years, we welcome the attempt at innovation.

However, we felt the Bicentennial Celebration was lacking in that crafts were excluded from this year's celebration by imposing on them the restriction from selling their crafts. In deferring to "the merchants of Princeton" who have a habit of making "much ado about nothing" and prohibiting craftsmen to sell their wares (while allowing food concessions and bake sales), the Arts Council has greatly curtailed the fullness of the spring festival.

We urge that next year, the Arts Council re-instate crafts and craftsmen to continue, in spirit if not in form, the past Art People Parties; that of a day when the community's artists, craftsmen and musicians come together to share themselves with the rest of Princeton.

Children's Safety at Stake.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Residents of Princeton University's Hibben and Magie apartments must face the possibility that school bus transportation between the Hibben and Magie apartments and Riverside Elementary School will be discontinued after June, 1975. There has been considerable private discussion between members of the Princeton Board of Education and the Township government regarding the feasibility of implementing such a plan. Township mayor Junius Bleiman, Board of Education president Winthrop Pike, and Transportation Administrator Ralph Bennett, all acknowledged that there was a possibility school bus services would be curtailed.

The current status of the proposal is not clear. One Magie parent was told that a final decision was imminent. However, neither Mayor Bleiman, Mr. Pike, nor Mr. Bennett could agree on how far along the proposal was in the decision making process.

What is most disturbing about the proposal is that very little consideration appears to have been given to the question of safety. Children walking to Riverside School would have to cross Faculty Road, Washington Road, and Harrison Street between 7:30 and 8:30 a.m. when automobile traffic is at its worst, and be forced to return under equally dangerous conditions.

There are no sidewalks on Faculty Road. The prospect of walking along Washington Road is enough to strike terror in the heart of the most seasoned adult.

Surely it is asking too much of small children to compete with college students and bicycles for the few feet of sidewalk on Washington Road.

We are not against walking. Many of us walked to school in our youth, but few, if any of us, could make the dubious boast of ever having been required to cope with the magnitude of automobile traffic that pours down Faculty Road, Washington Road, and Harrison Street.

It is hard to envision even the most disciplined 5 to 10 year old child being able to walk the distance in less than 40 minutes, and during the late Fall and Winter months the children would have to walk in the dark.

We all recognize the fact that school budgets must be pared down to eliminate frills and non-essential expenditures. School bus service to Hibben-Magie is an essential, it is not a "frill".

The safety of over 60 children is the real issue here. It is the responsibility of our elected officials to address themselves to this reality.

Editor's Note: The letter was signed by: Jane Coutts, Rita Miller, Charles F. Miller, Joan Thomas, Earl P. Thomas, Ann Walsh, Paul Walsh, Elaine Wise, Norton Wise and Elaine Barragan.

McPherson Resignation Urged.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is the text of an open letter to Dr. Philip McPherson, Superintendent of Schools:

Is it not true, Dr. McPherson, that soon after you were chosen as the new superintendent of schools (way back in '69), and given tenure you stated publicly that if you were ever asked to resign, you'd resign?

If you don't remember saying this, there are many in Princeton who do.

A year after you were given tenure a petition signed by over 1,500 dissatisfied Princeton parents asked for your resignation (this is in the Board of Education's minutes of November 23, 1971). Perhaps out of generosity, knowing you'd rather recently moved to Princeton and realizing that the role and responsibilities of being superintendent of schools was new to you, neither the Board of Education or the concerned parents took any further action as a result of the petition. We still had hope, somehow.

Now, nearly four years later, the community feeling seems even more overwhelmingly in favor of your

Red Cross Blood Donor Program Needs Your Help!

Me? A blood donor?

Sure, why not?

Well----I mean, I'm pretty busy, and the doctor told me once I was anemic and besides I can't stand pain, and the sight of blood....well!

The Red Cross in Princeton will call on you only twice a year and giving a pint of blood takes about 40 minutes, including the time it takes to fill out that form, and drink the fruit-juice afterwards.

Being anemic once doesn't mean you will be anemic for the rest of your life, because hemoglobin can go up and down. (Red Cross standards of hemoglobin count are higher than you really need for perfect health.)

Pain? The prick of a needle.

Sight of blood? The collector bag is down there on the floor, out of your sight.

And you could save the life of that kid upstairs who was in that bad accident.

If you know your blood type, call the Red Cross at 924-2404, and register over the phone. "Don't call us---we'll call you when we need you."

If you don't know your blood type, call the Red Cross at 924-2404 and they'll schedule you for getting typed and giving your first pint at the same time.

You check in at the lab of the Medical Center at Princeton. You fill out a questionnaire---diseases? allergies? when did you last eat?

You recline in a reclining chair so comfortable most donors wish they had one for the TV room. The technologist takes your temperature, your blood-pressure, your pulse and a prick of blood for hemoglobin sample (a mini-physical exam, in short, and absolutely FREE).

People vary in the length of time it takes to give a pint. You can read a magazine, chat with the donor in the next reclining chair, ask questions of the technologist.

Afterwards, you get a big cup of fruit juice to help replace the fluid you just lost. Drink more fluids when you get home.

No, you don't get a shot of whisky.

Your pint of blood is USED----every drop. It's wasteful to give blood components the patient doesn't need, so your pint is separated into plasma, red blood cells, platelets. Plasma itself can be fractionated into gamma globulin, serum albumin, vaccinia immune globulin, gibrinogen.

And of course, there are patients who need whole blood transfusions and need them NOW.

No patient at the Medical Center is ever charged for blood. You give as a volunteer. If your company has signed up with the Red Cross, and if 20 percent of its employees are donors, you and every eligible member of your family get UNLIMITED blood coverage anywhere in the United States you travel, whether you are a donor yourself or not.

What's your type? The commonest is O Positive and last year the Medical Center took in 1,295 pints. The next commonest is A positive, and donors gave 820 pints of it last year. If you're AB negative, you're down on Red Cross tallies as the rarest in Princeton.

In 1974, donors gave 2,614 pints of blood in Princeton through the Red Cross-Medical Center program. There are 1,500 to 2,000 donors. How about joining them?

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED
To Publicize "The Directory," "The Directory," a new area publication, will hold an Open House on Saturday from 6 to 8 at the home of Mrs. Howard C. Curtiss, 34 Southern Way.

The Directory provides an opportunity for individuals to communicate with others about current and continuing interests. The enthusiasms, concerns, talents and services are described and indexed.

ALL FOR SYPEK: Princeton Democratic office-holders—past, present and aspirant—lined up for Arthur Sypek, who wants his party's nomination for the new post of Mercer County executive in the June 3 primary. Left to right are Borough Councilman Martin P. Lombardo; former Borough Mayor Minot C. Morgan; Borough mayoralty candidate Jan Schneier; Borough Councilman Murray Medvin; State Senator Anne Martindell, at whose home this Sypek gathering was held; Mr. Sypek; Borough Councilman Robert Powell; Borough Council member Barbara Sigmund, and Township Mayor Jay Bleiman.

Each contributor writes and designs a message which is then printed photographically. Included in the third issue are potters, collectors, musicians, people who sew, plant growers, gourmets, translators, designers and jewelry makers. Copies are distributed free to libraries, schools and other organizations.

The Open House will provide an opportunity for those already registered in "The Directory" to see each other and for the community to learn more about this service. Copies of The Directory are available at the reference department of libraries and schools. Deadline for new entries in the fourth issue is May 31. For further information, call 924-5955.

Half-Day for Schools

Princeton's public schools will be open for only half a day next Monday, the Memorial Day holiday it was announced this week.
Schools will open in the morning as usual, but will close at 1. No lunches will be served. Pre-kindergarten and kindergarten will follow the usual half-day (Wednesday) schedule.
The 1974-75 academic calendar adopted by the board of education provided contingency days in case emergency closings occurred beyond the two days provided for in the calendar. There were three emergency closing days (February 5, 12 and March 28). The May 26 holiday had been designated as the make-up day. If a school is in session until 1, the day counts as a whole school day.

Ford's Handling of Foreign Affairs Is Down in Latest Survey - Byrne's Performance as Governor Up First Time in 10 Months

FUND-RAISING FLOWERS: Millie Intartaglia (right) and Barbara Sigmund add their smiles to those of the flower-buyers who attended Saturday's plant market on Spruce Street and Linden, sponsored by the North Harrison Civic Association. Proceeds will be used to improve the grounds at Lloyd Terrace, the nearby housing project for the elderly, and help Lloyd's tenants plant vegetable and flower beds.

Disapproval of President Ford's handling of the nation's foreign affairs has increased in New Jersey according to the Eagleton Institute's New Jersey Poll. The latest poll, conducted by the Rutgers University based Institute, finds that by a 40 percent to 37 percent margin more people disapprove than approve of Ford's handling of foreign affairs. Last January's poll found 48 percent of New Jerseyans approved of the President's conduct of foreign affairs while only 28 percent disapproved.

President Ford's rating on his conduct of the economy has remained steady, with 31 percent approving and 55 percent disapproving, these figures are almost unchanged from those of last January. Ford's overall evaluation was also unchanged from January with 31 percent of New Jerseyans giving him a positive evaluation of "excellent" or "good," while 55 percent give him a negative evaluation of "only fair" or "poor."

"Ford's overall rating is more closely tied to his rating on the economy than to his rating on foreign affairs," explained Stephen Chilton, Associate Director of the New Jersey Poll. "This is probably why his overall rating remained steady despite the decline in his rating on foreign affairs."

New Jerseyans' rating of Congress' performance has also declined. Only 17 percent rate its performance "excellent" or "good," a drop of 5 percent from January. Over three-quarters—78 percent—rate it "only fair" or "poor." Fewer than one quarter—23 percent—approve of Congress' handling of the economy, while 65 percent disapprove. Most of the decline in congress' rating was among conservatives of both parties.

The President's rating (figures are percentages):

	Mar.	Jan.
Total	31	30
Democrats	29	26
Independents	24	23
Republicans	58	55
Liberals	24	28
Conservatives	36	32
18-29	28	34
30-49	26	29
50+	37	26
Under $10,000	33	32
$10,000-$15	27	33
Over $15,000	28	30

President Ford's rating is highest among Republicans, conservatives and persons over 50, while Congress' rating is lowest for these groups. His rating is lowest among Democrats, liberals and center city residents, while Congress' rating is high among these groups. The only group giving the President an overall positive rating is Republicans, by a 58 to 40 percent margin.

Byrne's Rating Up 4 Percent. Public rating of Governor Byrne's performance in office has increased for the first time in ten months according to the Eagleton Institute's New Jersey Poll. The latest poll, conducted by the Rutgers University based Institute finds that 31 percent of New Jerseyans give the job the Governor is doing a positive rating of "excellent" or "good"—up from 27 percent in January of this year. His performance is given negative ratings of "only fair" or "poor" by 61 percent, down from 67 percent in January.

The Legislature's rating has

BUSINESS In Princeton

PROGRAM CONTINUED

Park and Shop Successful. The Park and Shop program has been extended for an additional six-month period following a successful experimental six months. Some of the advantages of this system are that people do not have to move their cars every hour and are not subject to fines for overtime parking.

Shoppers and merchants alike are enthusiastic about the program, which actually began in 1962, when Palmer Square, Inc. used it for its own clientele. Since then, the parking situation in the Central Business District has become increasingly serious. Last December, the Borough combined its metered lot on Hulfish Street with Palmer Square's parking lot in a joint effort to make parking available and accessible for shoppers.

Other business firms, besides retail, are also invited to take part in the program. The number of participants has doubled during the last six months, but continued operation of Park and Shop depends on increased use by the public. Shoppers can be made aware of participants by the red stickers on the doors of the shops. Salespeople wearing "Ask Me About Free Parking" buttons will also be glad to explain the program. The lots are open Monday through Saturday from 8 to 5.

ELECTED MEMBER

Of National Academy of Engineering. Dr. Albert Rose, 292 Stockton Street, a former RCA Laboratories researcher, is one of 86 Americans elected to the National Academy of Engineering. He was cited for "contributions in the fields of

Dr. Rose retired at the end of March as a Fellow of the Technical Staff of RCA Laboratories in Princeton after a 40-year career with RCA. He will be a Fairchild Distinguished Scholar at California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, Calif., during the 1975-76 school year. He has held visiting professorships at Princeton and Cornell Universities.

In 1958, he received the David Sarnoff Gold Medal Award of the Society of Motion Picture and Television Engineers for basic contributions to the development of the Orthicon, Image Orthicon, and Vidicon television camera tubes. Earlier, he had been given the Television Broadcasters Association Award and the Morris Liebmann Award of the Institute of Radio Engineers, as well as RCA's highest technical honor, the David Sarnoff Award for Outstanding Technical Achievement.

ARCHITECT WINS AWARD

For Guernsey Hall Conversion. William H. Short of Short and Ford Architects, has received an Award of Merit from the AIA-House and Home annual design program for his work on Guernsey Hall, the original mansion of Marquand Park. The presentation was made in Atlanta this week at the American Institute of Architects' convention.

This was the second such award for Mr. Short for his design of Princeton homes. In 1973, he won a similar Award of Merit for his design of the Thornton residence on Lovers Lane across from Guernsey Hall.

Guernsey Hall, an Italianate villa, was designed by John Notman, a Philadelphia architect, in 1849. Mr. Short converted the mansion into five condominiums, with a concept that retains the original Notman design elements. The domed skylit central hall, considered one of the country's most important 19th century domestic interiors, was restored, and the formal rooms were kept in the same sequence of spaces as in Notman's design.

Interest in saving Guernsey Hall developed several years ago, after a potential buyer approached the Zoning Board with a plan to raze the building and construct an organ studio there, a plan that was rejected. Mr. Short's concept of preserving the building and making it economically feasible through adoptive use amenable to the original design was later accepted by the board.

HAVE WE GOT BICYCLES? Yes, all kinds, parts and "fast repair service," says Dick Probasco (left) manager of Jay's Cycles, a new bicycle sales and service shop that opened this month at 249 Nassau Street. Jay Mironov (right), owner of Jay's and Tiger Auto & Cycle Center on Witherspoon Street, believes his new shop, which has plenty of off-street free parking, will be more convenient for customers. It is open six days a week. For uptown riders, Tiger Auto & Cycle will continue to sell and service bikes. It is Mercer County's largest Raleigh Dealer.

New Jersey Poll

increased slightly, with 25 percent giving positive ratings of "excellent" or "good," while 61 percent give negative ratings of "only fair" or "poor." Last January only 24 percent rated it "excellent" or "good" while 65 percent rated it "only fair" or "poor."

Byrne received his highest marks last spring when more than half of the voting age public rated his performance positively. At that time 84 percent approved his handling of the energy crisis. By September Byrne's positive rating had dropped to 33 percent after the State Senate refused to support his income tax, and his rating continued to decline to its lowest in January.

Surprisingly, Governor Byrne gained the most ground among Republicans, although Democrats and Independents also rated him more favorably than last January. The number of Republicans rating him positively rose from 16 percent to 28 percent. His positive ratings among Democrats rose from 36 percent to 40 percent, and among Independents from 25 percent to 28 percent. Other relatively large gains were made among middle-aged and middle-income people.

The New Jersey State Legislature lost ground among middle income families and center city residents, while gaining ground among non-whites. Almost as many non-whites rate the Legislature "excellent" or "good"—29 percent—as give the Governor that rating—33 percent.

The Fifteenth New Jersey Poll was conducted by telephone from the Eagleton Institute of Politics, Rutgers University, New Brunswick. A scientifically selected random sample of 1,005 New Jersey residents 18 years of age or older was interviewed.

OBITUARIES

Charles E. Farrington, 61, 82 Overbrook Drive, died May 14 in the coronary care unit of the Medical Center of Princeton. He had collapsed with an apparent heart attack 24 hours earlier, at a candidates' night sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

A Princeton attorney and a Mercer County Freeholder, Mr. Farrington grew up on Brunswick Avenue in North Trenton and graduated from Trenton High School, Rider College and the Rutgers University School of Law. During World War II he served for three and a half years in the Coast Guard.

He first won elected office in November, 1957, as a state Assemblyman, and served until 1967 when he quit the Assembly to make an unsuccessful attempt to win the party nomination to run for the state Senate. A year later he accepted a Democratic bid to run for freeholder and was elected. Assuming office in January, 1969, he immediately took charge of the county's finance department and a year later was chosen by his fellow freeholders as deputy director, a post he held until his death.

He was a member of the Mercer County Bar Association, the New Jersey Association, and the American Bar Association. During his ten years in the Assembly he was chairman of the appropriations committee and sponsored legislation enlarging the state pension fund and creating the New Jersey Youth Division, the state Council on the Arts, and the state Youth Division.

He was a member of the Princeton Community Democratic Club, the Mercer County Democratic organization, the Trenton and Princeton Historical Societies and the Princeton Lions Club.

He is survived by his wife, Estelle. A memorial service will be held Thursday at 4 p.m. in the Unitarian Church.

Peter E. Schmidt, 66, 10 Park Avenue, Pennington, died May 16 at the Medical Center of Princeton. Prior to his retirement, he was a senior margin clerk for Tucker & Anthony, a Wall Street brokerage firm, for 20 years.

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., he had resided in Woodside, N.Y. for 35 years before moving to Pennington four years ago. Surviving are his wife, Charlotte S. Schmidt; and a daughter, Miss Charlotte Schmidt, of Pennington.

A service was held at the Blackwell Memorial Home, Pennington, followed by a Mass of Christian Burial in St. James Roman Catholic Church, Pennington. Interment will be in St. John's Cemetery, Queens, N.Y.

Mrs. Florence Luther, 67, 29 Prospect Street, Plainsboro, died May 12 in Princeton Medical Center. She was retired from American Cyanamid Co., where she worked for 28 years.

Born in Trenton, Mrs. Luther lived in Plainsboro for 50 years and was a member of St. Paul's Church, Princeton.

Widow of Charles G. Luther, she is survived by two sons, Leonard L. and C. Robert, both of Plainsboro; a sister,

CARO OF THANKS

AND FAMILY

Mrs. Genevieve Smith, a brother Edward Chicaleski, both of Trenton; three grandsons and three granddaughters.

The service was held in the A.S. Cole Funeral Home, Cranbury, with Mass of Christian Burial in St. Paul's Church. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Viola E. Sandt, 78, formerly of Washington Crossing Road, Pennington, died May 19 in Helene Fuld Medical Center. Mrs. Sandt was born in Flemington and lived in Hamilton Township for several years prior to moving to Pennington 28 years ago. She was a member of Bethany Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy E. Lucas of Trenton and Mrs. Ruth G. Grilli of Hamilton Township, with whom she resided; a son, Donald H. Sandt of Mercerville; five grandchildren and a great-grandson.

A private service will be held Thursday at 1:30 at the Saul Memorial Home, Trenton, the Rev. Dr. Russell Annich, pastor of Bethany Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Ewing Cemetery.

SPORTS

SCHOOLBOYS TO ROW

In Annual Regatta. The 41st annual regatta of the Schoolboy Rowing Association of America will be held on Lake Carnegie on Friday, with heats beginning at 3 and finals starting Saturday morning at 9.

More than 40 high schools and prep schools from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, Michigan, Illinois, Florida and Ontario, Canada, will participate. The total number of competitors will be close to 550.

Events will include junior and senior eights and fours, lightweight eights, women's eights and a full slate of smaller boats, including junior and senior singles, doubles and quadruple sculls. There will also be youth events of fours and pairs, with and without coxswain. Races will be held at ten-minute intervals, and the last race is scheduled at noon, Saturday.

Shells will be housed at the University boathouse and in the lower level of Jadwin cage. Residents of the area are requested to avoid using Faculty Road between Washington and Harrison during Friday afternoon and Saturday morning as sculls will be carried from the cage to the launching area and back across Faculty Road. Additional information is obtainable from the co-chairman, Homer Zink, at 924-6000.

EQUESTRIANS WIN

At Dressage Show. Mrs. Nancy Gilvarg, Miss Kathrine Garland, both of Princeton, and Mrs. Frankye Booher of Skillman were winners at the Princeton Riding Center's annual Dressage horse show on Sunday.

Mrs. Gilvarg, riding her horse "Simon," took two first place ribbons and a fourth place ribbon. Miss Garland riding "Philario," owned by her grandmother Mrs. A.D. Kinsley, also of Princeton, captured a first at the training level for juniors and went home with a blue ribbon and a silver trophy.

Mrs. Frankye Booher and her thoroughbred mare, "Gray Goddess," placed first, third, fourth and fifth in different classes and received the Louise Strunsky Memorial Challenge Trophy, awarded to the highest percentage training level rider of the show.

Miss Joanne Spain of Princeton, a Junior rider, took a fourth place ribbon in the Training Class. Miss Allison Spencer, a junior at Princeton University, rode a Grand Prix test and an Intermediare with high scores in both and won two blue ribbons. Riders from 10 states were among the entrants.

BULLOCK PACES PHS

To 84-47 Track Win. Princeton High's standout sophomore sprinter Ken Bullock won the 100 and 220-yard dashes and added a third first in the high jump Monday to lead PHS to an 84-47 victory over Hightstown.

Mark McLean was a double winner for PHS, capturing the pole vault and 120-yard high hurdles. Bullock combined with Rick Hannye, Jim Bolster and Tony Strong to win the mile relay in 3:43.3.

Other first place finishers for PHS were Tim Anderson (mile), Rick Nanor (440), Royce Flippin (880), and Glenn Conti (shot put). The Rams' Marty Egal defeated Morgan Snyder of PHS in the two mile.

PHS BOWS, 9-4

To Hun School. Reduced to the role of spoilers, the Princeton High School baseball team was unable to fulfill it Monday when it was defeated by neighborhood rival, Hun, 9-4.

Pete Watson, 0-6, no where near as poor a pitcher as his record would indicate, gave up three runs in the four innings he worked, only two of them earned. His counterpart, strong-armed Ernie Barbiero, whose announced goal before the start of the season was to win 10 games for Hun, edged closer with his eighth against four setbacks. He struck out five, walked one and connected for a two-run triple in the sixth.

After Hun had led from the second inning, PHS cut the deficit to one run with two in the fifth on a double by Don Seitz, a ground out, Dave Seager's single and a throwing error by the Hun captain, Lonnie Cathel.

A key play occurred in the sixth. PHS had a Hun runner caught in a rundown when the umpire ruled that Greg Warnagieris had obstructed his path. Hun runners advanced to second and third as a result and both later scored.

Hun scored four more in the sixth to put the game out of reach. PHS rapped 10 hits off Barbiero, including three singles by Larry Howell and a long triple by Dave Robinson that drove in Princeton's final two runs in the last inning. Seitz and Watson each had two hits. Princeton's record dipped to 2-14.

SEASON TO END

For Hun School Nine. The Hun School baseball team was scheduled to end its season this Wednesday afternoon against visiting Blair Academy.

Last week, Hun shut out a weak Mitchell Prep team, 3-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Tom Sumners (4-2) and earlier in the week, shaded West Windsor, 2-1, in eight innings. The two wins increased Hun's record to 10-6. "Not bad," said Hun coach Bill McQuade after pointing out that he will lose only two seniors through graduation: Captain Lonnie Cathel and Jeff Petrone.

Against Mitchell, Sumners helped his own cause with a double and one RBI while Tom Dunn batted 2-for-4 and drove in a run. Dunn is hitting .380, third behind sophomore Jimmy Cortina (.382) and Ernie Barbiero (.423).

Barbiero had a no-hitter until the bottom of the seventh against West Windsor. The Pirates had scored one unearned run earlier on a error and Hun had tied it on a pair of walks and Bob Mendelson's single.

Hun pushed across the winning run on singles by Cathel and Barbiero and a safety squeeze by John Cirelli that rolled for a hit, Barbiero limited West Windsor to a pair of singles in picking up his sixth win against four losses.

"The team did a great job on defense," said McQuade. "It was tight all the way around. It was a heck of a game."

SEASON WINDS DOWN

For PDS Baseball Team. Idle for nine days, the Princeton Day School baseball team was scheduled to resume action this Wednesday afternoon against Peddie School in Hightstown.

Coach Tom DeVito's team will end its regular season with games against Delbarton on Friday and Morristown Beard on Tuesday. Both will be played at the PDS field, starting at 3:30.

MEETING SCHEDULED

By Tennis Committee. In preparation for a summer of expanded tennis activities, the Princeton Community Tennis Program will hold an Adult Committee meeting next Thursday, May 29, at 8 p.m. in the Tennis Office, 71 University Place.

A committee of parents, which helps conduct the junior and adult events, includes: Mrs. Sanford Aronovic, Mrs. David Atkin, Mr. John Bauman, Mrs. Charles Clark, Mrs. Douglas Corlette, Mrs. Francis Dyckman, Jr., Mrs. Robert Ellis, Mrs. Richard Flournoy, Mrs. Gavin Hildick-Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lapidus, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Oglesby, Mrs. Jerome Rose, Mrs. Robert Stabler, Mrs. Edward Thomas, Mrs. Gerard Thompson and Mrs. John White.

The Tennis Program's Summer Brochure lists all Princeton and neighboring summer tennis tournaments, as well as class schedules for group lessons. Copies of the brochure or further information about tournaments can be obtained at the Tennis Office.

ST. ANTHONY'S UPSET

By Little Tigers. Five-hit pitching by John Madden, who went all the way, striking out four, and the 3-for-3 hitting of Don Seitz, powered Princeton High School to an upset win over St. Anthony's (14-5)

Tuesday. And for the first time this season, PHS did not commit a single error.

Seitz's triple and a bloop single by Dave Seagers, who had two hits in three appearances, gave PHS its first run in the second. A walk, singles by Pete Watson, Seitz and an error brought the Little Tigers two more runs in the third.

St. Anthony pitcher, Bob Wieger, suffered his first loss of the season. PHS's record is now 3-14.

LOVELY AND LIVEABLE

Take a soupcon of Normandy, add a dash of Vermont, sprinkle liberally with contemporary glass, stir together until smoothly blended, and turn out a homeowner's delight! Planned to take advantage of the rolling hill view, this house, with its interior brick, handsome paneling and open beams, combines beautifully wide open space and warm coziness. A good-looking tiled entry overlooking the striking two story living room, airy dining room, fine efficient kitchen, wet bar, study and/or bedroom with adjoining full bath comprise the first floor.

Upstairs are two charming bedrooms; each with dressing room and bath; downstairs, large paneled family room, laundry-kitchenette, good bedroom plus bath, utility and furnace rooms. Added attractions: 3 fireplaces. Thermopane windows, central air, extensive wall to wall carpeting, burglar and fire alarms, electric garage doors—lovely taste—perfect condition—over an acre with big trees. The only reason anyone could leave this house is to move to Florida! $167,500

PEACEFUL AND PROTECTED

Tucked away on 3 acres of rocky woodland in a quiet rural area, this red frame ranch offers interesting possibilities for a space-loving single person or a small family. Entry hall; fine big drop-down living room with nice fireplace, paneling, and a three way outlook, dining room with glass doors out to a pebbled terrace, cheery freshly painted kitchen with new stove, two delightful bedrooms, a big family room now used as a spacious master bedroom; good-sized bath — almost all are light and bright (thanks to judicious clearing) and look out on the lovely woodsy setting. Some plaster walls, hardwood floors and solid basic construction (1947 vintage) are extra advantages of this unusual house with its country privacy and close-enough-to-town-for-easy-access location. $67,500

GRACE AND GLAMOUR

abound in this lovely brick and cedar shingle home in an especially desirable Western Princeton location. Handsome tiled foyer, large library with fireplace, stunning living room with walk-in bar and stepdown plant room, pretty dining room, pantry, kitchen with adjoining 2 room suite plus bath. "His" and "hers" powder rooms! Upstairs are 2 large sunny corner bedrooms, 2 baths, and luxurious master suite with "his" and "hers" dressing rooms and baths.

Beautifully set on more than an acre with gorgeous trees, formal landscaping, flagstone terrace, fenced vegetable garden and dog run, attached garage. Added attractions: slate roof, built-in bookshelves, elegant appointments, wall-to-wall carpeting, spacious wine cellar. What more can we say, and what more could anyone want? $195,000

APPEALING AND ACCESSIBLE

Cute, cozy and convenient — these are the most appealing attributes of this new Borough listing. Pretty living room with big bay window (a perfect setting for decorative house plants), dining room, drop-down enclosed heated porch (with bookshelves added a good study), smallish kitchen (but one that provides eating space and meets the needs of a gourmet cook), three bedrooms and 1 1/2 baths — all are compact enough for easy care but big enough for small family comfort. Added assets are a big screened porch overlooking a swimming pool sufficiently screened by summer greenery for sunny dipping! The location is a nice one — a pleasant street without heavy traffic but within walking distance of Rivers School, the University and the busline. $72,500

BEAUTY — CONVENIENCE AND SPACE!

This handsome traditional home set on a handsome wooded property has over 3600 square feet of living space (far more than the usual) so well planned that you may choose to use some rooms as you prefer — for a change, switch the dining room and family room for example — there is a delightful panelled library, large sunny living room — large modern kitchen — four large bedrooms including large master with 18 foot walk-in closet and room size bath plus a double or suite size bedroom which used to be 2 rooms and could again if you need a five bedroom house. Two fireplaces — central air conditioning — large terrace and THERE'S MORE TO SEE!

You only panel a wall once!

Come in...let us help you plan to do it right.

You can easily put up paneling that you will enjoy for years. Here's all it takes:

- 1 Measure walls, mark in rough sketch showing position of windows, etc. Note what walls are made of.
- 2 Bring us the sketch; we'll tell you how many 4x8 panels you need and how to apply them
- 3 Order the U.S. Plywood paneling you like best. We have a wide choice in all price ranges.
- 4 Follow our easy instructions and the job will go quickly. You probably have all the tools you need. If not, we can supply any you're missing.
- 5 Invite the crowd over for an evening of fun and compliments.

See our complete line of fine paneling and accessories

PRINCETON

If you have hockey players or skaters, bird watchers, students at PDS or Stuart (or anywhere else!) you must see this beautifully located Colonial on a wooded lot in one of the Township's most scenic areas. This spacious home has a bright living room with fireplace, formal dining room, eat-in kitchen, powder room and separate laundry area downstairs. On the second floor are five nice bedrooms and two baths with lots of closet space. Additionally, there is a two car garage and full basement, central air conditioning and a brick patio. The owners are anxious to sell, so call us to see it now. $127,500.

LAWRENCE: The ultimate house for a small family, is this beautifully built stone ranch on one and one half acres on a country road but close to the center of Princeton. It includes a convenient kitchen, a formal dining room, a large living room, two bedrooms and 2 baths, a jalousied Florida room and a really fine terrace with gorgeous landscaping. There are many extras - electric garage doors, central air conditioning, T.V. antenna and all kitchen appliances. A really good house for the asking price of $89,000.

ROCKY HILL: On the main street in the middle of popular Rocky Hill borough, is an older 1 1/2 story home on a large lot. It offers a living room, dining room and kitchen, 2 bedrooms and bath on the first floor and three bedrooms and bath on the second story. On an extra sized lot, the owners are asking $67,700.

PRINCETON: Spring in bloom is the keynote in this maturely landscaped yard, which provides a perfect setting for an attractive four bedroom 2 1/2 bath house. A gracious living room with fireplace, a dining room opening onto a screened porch and a kitchen complete the first level. On the lower level, there is a large family room, separate laundry area and a two car garage. Convenience and comfort for $79,500.

WEST WINDSOR: One of the best buys on the market today is this rancher within walking distance of the high school. It offers an almost new kitchen with every convenience, a family room with sliding doors to the yard, and a living room, 3 bedrooms and 1 1/2 baths. $47,500.

EXCEPTIONAL VALUE
In the Princeton Western Section

Situated on a beautiful hillside now in bloom in Princeton's Parkside Drive section is a lovely colonial split that offers you one of the best values in a moderately priced home in the Princeton Western section. Inside, is a living room with raised hearth fireplace suitable for entertaining on a grand scale, a cheerful dining area, and a delightful eat-in kitchen with pine cabinets in the colonial tradition. Just a few steps away is a rustic knotty pine family room and a downstairs powder room and laundry room. Upstairs, are three cheerful and spacious bedrooms and one and a half baths. Tastefully decorated throughout and overlooking natural open space with Stony Brook close at hand for a peaceful woodland walk! Need we say more than to remind you of the three most important factors in real estate: location, location, location! Can you afford not to move into this incomparable setting with all of the wonderful advantages of living in Princeton.

Three Fine Examples of the Architect's Art

Hillier - On Stuart Road, the clean soaring lines of the house blend marvelously with the boulder strewn, heavily forested, four acre site. From the entry level with its private guest room and full bath, step into the living room and feel the light and height of the room - almost three stories tall. A few steps up from the living room is a comfortable family room with fireplace and bar, an adjoining dining room, and a fine spacious kitchen. The children's area has four bedrooms or three and a playroom, plus two baths. The master suite has a dressing room, full bath, and adjoining study. A third floor sun room, lots of glass, and numerous decks and balconies provide different views of the outside at every turn. Zoned air conditioning, fire and burglar alarms, two car garage. $265,000

Thompson - A Contemporary with real style - classically modern, handsomely proportioned, intelligently planned. Spacious entry hall with striking glass walled stairs. Handsome stepdown living room and separate dining room, both overlooking the Bedens Brook golf course and miles beyond. Two story informal living room with special stairs and balcony. Super kitchen and breakfast area - the appliances include special Corning flat top stove, two self-cleaning ovens, trashmasher, dishwasher, disposal and gas fired Char-Rock grill. Five bedrooms, four and two half baths including a private first floor guest suite with dressing area and bath. Huge basement. Triple zoned heating and air-conditioning. Central vacuum and intercom systems and many other special features. Three car garage with electronic door openers. Two bluestone terraces and a outdoor balcony overlooking the view. Excellent professional landscaping. $245,000

Comstock - In Riverside, an exceptional bright airy house which takes full advantage of its lakeside location. Its main rooms - thirty foot living room with high ceilings, spacious separate dining room, breakfast room opening to a deck, master bedroom with its own deck, stone floored garden room, indoor pool - all have fine views of the lake. Other rooms include a study, playroom, darkroom, two other double bedrooms, dressing rooms for the pool and two full baths and powder room. Lovely terrace and exceptional landscaping with dogwoods, huge shade trees, etc. Fair priced at $175,000

DANCERS!

Audition for Ballet. Auditions for the Princeton Regional Ballet Company will be held Sunday, June 1 at 262 Alexander Street, in the studios of the Princeton Ballet Society, the organization that maintains the regional company.

Ballet students age 12 through 14 may audition for the junior company starting at 1 p.m. and students age 15 and older, for the senior company, starting at 2:45 p.m.

Modern dance auditions for dancers age 12 and up, will be held at 4:45 p.m.

Representatives of the Pennsylvania Ballet will conduct the ballet auditions, the Elise Monte, who has performed with Martha Graham, will oversee the modern dance auditions.

Students from any dance school may apply. Application blanks are available from the Princeton Ballet Society, P.O. Box 171, Princeton, or by calling 609-921-7758 between 10 a.m. and noon, and 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. There is a $2.50 registration fee. Applications must be returned by May 31.

READY FOR SUMMER?

Intime Is. Summer Intime will be back again this year. Dan Berkowitz, who has guided previous summer theatre endeavors, will direct this one, launching a ten week-five show season starting June 26. Plays will be given, as before, in Murray Theatre on the University campus.

In the company, Mr. Berkowitz has Bill Hootkins, Alice White, Karl Light, Anne Sheldon, Larry Strichman and Marcia Ellian, just to start.

Shaw's "Heartbreak House," with Karl Light as Captain Shotover will get things started. Next, Noel Coward's "Design for Living," with Intime veterans John Vennema, Richard Ferrugio and Anne Hoffman.

An original sci-fi musical by Berkowitz and Strichman with music by Robert Davidson, will come next. It's called "Richelieu," and it will come in mid-summer.

Remaining shows are the gay romp, "The Boys in the Band," and "The Royal Hunt of the Sun," the Peter Shaffer play.

Last year's Midnight Cabaret will be back, featuring Liz Fillo, Dave Dingle, Roo Brown and others

CINDERELLA: Dodie Pettit steps from the chimney-corner, in rags and en pointe, to dance the part of Cinderella, in the full-length production of Prokofiev's ballet to be given this Saturday at McCarter. It's the Princeton Ballet Society's school presentation, curtain time 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

from '74. This year, the Caharet will play Fridays and Saturdays, and the Summer Intime acting company will play a part here and there.

The film series will be a Directors Showcase, with retrospectives of Ken Russell, George Roy Hill, Akira Kurosawa, D.W. Griffith and Leo, McCarey. Stars will include Katharine Hepburn, Clark Gable, Tyrone Power and Josephine Baker.

MELODRAMA PLANNED

Next Weekend. The gay '90s will come to Princeton when the Princeton Meadows Theater Group presents "The Great Western Melodrama" May 30, 31 and June 1.

Norm Friedman is directing the one-act play, assisted by Peggy Skorupsky. The cast includes Debby Alphin, Barbara Cohen, Gene DeMarco, Shelley Goldstein, Wendy Graham, Claire Heifich, Linda Hummel, Jeff Krawitz, Matt Mancuso and Janet Manos.

Performances will be held in the Fox Run Clubhouse at Princeton Meadows, Plainsboro. Curtain is 8:30 Friday and Saturday, 7 on Sunday, with a matinee at 2:30 Sunday. Tickets for children under 12 will be 50 cents at this performance only. Adult tickets are $1.50 and may be purchased in the Princeton Meadows leasing office, or at the door.

Proceeds will be donated to the Plainsboro Public Library, in memory of Mayor

Henry W. Jeffers, Jr.

WILDE COMEDY SET

By Lawrenceville Faculty. Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," will be presented at 8 p.m. in the Kirby Arts Center of The Lawrenceville School on May 23 and 24, as a benefit for the School's oldest social service organization, The Lawrenceville School Camp.

The Lawrenceville Faculty Players, whose first production last November of Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell" was well received, are presently rehearsing the work which Wilde dubbed "a trivial comedy for serious people." The cast, Fred Gerstell, Bernard Loux, Mary-Ann Winter, Alberta Stehle, Aminta Marks, Carty Lynch, Hilary Winter, George Diehl and Dick Burns, is under the direction of Jim Blake. Technical aspects of the production are being handled by Lawrenceville's student drama organization, The Periwig Club.

The decision to stage the play as a benefit for the School Camp was made, according to director Blake, "from a desire to aid an organization which not only does something worthwhile for ghetto kids but provides a valuable opportunity for our own students to do something selfless as counselors. It is worth our 'earnest' effort." The Lawrenceville School Camp, which has been operating continuously since 1897, depends entirely on charitable contributions and the efforts of its student counselors and its director, Edward R. Megna, for its operating capital. Tickets for the play may be obtained at The Jigger Shop, Lawrenceville, or at the box-office on the nights of the performances. Admission is $1.50 and $1.00 for students. There is ample free parking.

TOWN TOPICS is delivered without charge to every home in Princeton Borough and Township and to part or all of West Windsor, Lawrence, Hopewell, Montgomery, South Brunswick and Franklin Townships and Griggstown. At all newsstands, including TOWN TOPICS' office, it costs 15 cents

Join 107 hardy New Jersey homesteaders for a busy day in the 1800's. Come to Smithville's Old Village.

A bygone way of life has returned to South Jersey. Men and women are wearing the clothes of another age. They are working in the sunshine with old-fashioned tools. Humming near-forgotten tunes. And conducting their daily lives as if Andrew Jackson were still in the White House.

The Old Village is a working crossroads community of southern New Jersey a century and more ago. Over thirty homes, shops, churches and schools have been brought from all around the region. Nail by nail, each has been lovingly and accurately restored to original condition. And outfitted with the goods and furnishings of that bygone era.

You are no mere spectator in The Old Village, as you sniff through a shipment of spices at the general store. Question the apothecary about his marvelous compounds. Discuss the weather with a farmer . . . while he plants seeds forgotten by modern agriculture.

You are, for your short hours in The Old Village, a wonder-struck traveler from a distant land, welcomed by uncomplicated people to learn the old ways of their new country.

Admission to The Old Village is $2.50 for adults, $1.50 for children 5 to 12, and free for children under 5.

For a free brochure, write to Dept. A—Towne of Smithville.

James B. Johnson Homestead. Brought from Chestnut Creek where it was built in 1820. Originally the home of a prosperous sea captain whose livelihood took him throughout the Americas. Its woodwork and trim distinguish it as one of the most elegant structures in The Old Village.

Pershing School. Originally "Germantown School," built in 1871 in Toms River. This typical one-room, six-grade schoolhouse was renamed after World War I. Until 1930, children still recited lessons here, gathering around the pot-bellied stove on cold days.

MUSICALS PLANNED

At Theatre-by-the-Lake. Encouraged by the response to its program of family-oriented shows in its first two seasons, Theatre-by-the-Lake is set to hold a third season, this one consisting of familiar musicals. Jeffrey Holcombe and Francis A. Towne, managers, have announced that the productions will again be presented in Geiger-Reeves Hall on the Peddie School campus in Hightstown, with plenty of parking available. Curtain times are 8:30, with an extra 7:30 performance of the last show.

Four musicals have been chosen, and the public is welcome to try out for any or all of the productions. "Sweet Charity," which starred Gwen Verdon and ran for two years on Broadway, is about a dance hall hostess who is looking for a mate. Tryouts for this production, which will be presented July 10-12, will be held June 11 and 12. The second show will be "Oliver," best musical of the year during its three-year run in New York. Tryouts are set for June 23 and 24 for this July 24-26 presentation.

Theatre games, improvisation, characterizations and scene study will be offered, and the course may be taken by beginners as well as experienced students.

Susan Brainerd will offer an intensive five-day course called "Personalized Learning Through the Creative Arts" for teachers, counselors, administrators and parents who would like to use creative arts activities with children.

Dr. Brainerd will stress specific ways to integrate music, visual arts, movement and poetry into classroom instruction. The class will meet Monday through Friday, June 23-27, from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Registration for the Creative Theatre summer program will be held through June 1. Information may be obtained through Creative Theatre Unlimited, 33 Mercer Street, 924-3489 or 921-9165 after 6 p.m.

IF YOU LIKE TOWN TOPICS, the best way to show your appreciation is to mention it to our advertisers.

"Stop the World—I Want to Get Off," which revolves around the seven stages of man, using song and mime, will have an August 7-9 production, with tryouts June 30 and July 1. The final musical will be "West Side Story," the most challenging show for this theatre company to date. August 21-24 are the production dates; tryout dates are July 14 and 15.

Tickets will be priced at $3.50 and $4, with reduced prices offered for group sales and theatre parties for 20 or more. Arrangements for these must be made with the business manager one week in advance. The box office number is 443-4544.

MASTER DANCER HERE

For Single Class. Louis Falco, former principal dancer with Jose Limon and founder now of his own company, will conduct a master class for the Dance Co-op at Princeton Day School this Sunday, starting at 2 p.m. The fee is $5 and there is no advance registration. Tickets will be on sale at the door of the PDS gym 15 minutes before the class. The session will last 90 minutes.

Louis Falco is known for his formidable technique and for his use of contemporary music and avant-garde artists in his choreography. Clive Barnes, dance critic of the New York Times, has characterized Falco as "one of America's best dancers."

A Quotation from Calvin Coolidge:

"Nothing in the world can take the place of persistence. Talent will not, nothing is more common than unsuccessful men with talent. Genius will not; unrewarded genius is almost a proverb. Education will not; the world is full of educated derelicts. Persistence and determination alone are omnipotent. The slogan 'press on' has solved, and will always solve, the problems of the human race."

It is commonly known that all Peacock Inn employees have talent, genius and education. But we are also determined to "press on," to give better food service, nicer guest rooms, more congenial cocktail bars

MUSIC
In Princeton

FOR WNCN...
Two Benefit Concerts. More than a dozen musicians from the Princeton area will perform in a pair of concerts whose proceeds will go toward legal fees to restore radio station WNCN to classical music.

The concerts will be given in the bonsai gardens of Polly Fairman, 103 Mt. Lucas Road. They will be held this Sunday and Sunday, June 1, from 2 to 5. A minimum donation of $5 is requested.

This Sunday, the Princeton University Chamber Players will perform. Durant Robinson will be guitar soloist. The players will be Jennefer Small, Marilyn Resh, and Tony Rothchild, violin; Ken Clark, David Quick, and Stefan Kozinski, viola; John Richman and Emily Swartzentruber, cello; and Eileen Kory, flute.

On Sunday, June 1, Mr. Robinson will again be soloist. The musicians will be Gino Treves, cello; Tony Miller, viola; Paul Weimer, first violin; and Ann Deutsch, second violin.

TENOR TO SING
Poems in Song on Program. The Friends of Music will present Rufus Hallmark, tenor, in concert Friday at 8:30 in Woolworth Center on campus. Accompanied by James Busby, pianist, he will sing songs of the poems of Joseph von Eichendorff set to music by Schumann, Brahms, Wolf, Mendelssohn, Franz and Pfitzner.

Mr. Hallmark is an assistant professor of music at M.I.T. He holds a master's degree in musicology from Boston University and a Ph.D. from Princeton with a dissertation on the songs of Robert Schumann. While at Princeton, Mr. Hallmark gave a number of recitals and performed with the Princeton University Opera Theatre. In addition to his teaching and scholarship, he performs as tenor soloist with the Boston Camerata.

James Busby is a free-lance pianist in the Boston area, active as solo recitalist, accompanist and vocal coach. He is heard frequently in Boston at the Gardner Museum, the Museum of Fine Arts and over radio station WGBH.

The concert is free and open to the public.

SEMINAR OFFERED
In Electronic Music. Princeton University's Music Department has announced a non-credit seminar in electronic music to be held for six weeks, June 23-August 1. The seminar is open to the public and will include the history of electronic music, basic acoustic theory and instruction in the techniques of electronic music composition using the Buchla synthesizer in the electronic music studio.

There will be three hours a week private studio instruction and use, covering the basic concepts of digital-analog hybrid and digital sound synthesis systems. The cost of the seminar is $100, which includes 39 hours of lecture and private instruction and two rolls of analog tape.

The seminar will be conducted by Richard Cann, assisted by Michael Dellario. They specify a minimum of 12 participants in order to hold the seminar, with a maximum of 18 accepted. For further information, contact the Music Department, 452-4241, or Richard Cann, 921-2048, after 5.

INSTRUCTION OFFERED
At Choir College. The Westminster Choir College Preparatory Division will once again offer a summer program of private lessons in most instruments and voice. According to Louise Cheadle, Director of the Preparatory Division, "Private lessons will be available during the summer on a non-structured schedule in order to fit in with vacation plans of individuals and families. This type of program affords students the opportunity of continuing their lessons in a program tailored to the individual's needs."

Instruction is available in voice and most instruments offered by the Preparatory Division during the regular school year, and is open to students of all ages and all levels of advancement, beginners included. The Preparatory Division will offer for the first time this summer, a program in Theory-Fundamentals classes. This course is designed to continue the Theory program as offered by the Preparatory Division during the regular school year, and is open to outsiders with little or no Theory background. Classes will meet once a week for six weeks on Friday afternoons, starting May 30.

For further information, call the Director of the Preparatory Division at 921-7104.

STUDENTS TO PLAY
In Piano Recital. Students of Robert Haley will be presented in piano recitals at St. Joseph's Seminary, Lake Road, Thursday at 7:30.

Dale Ballou will present a solo recital next Thursday, May 29, at 8. Mr. Ballou is a recipient of scholarships from the New England Conservatory of Music and Indiana University and was a finalist in the Van Cliburn Contest at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. The program will include Beethoven's Pathetique Sonata, Chopin's Ballade opus 23, Scherzo opus 31 and works of Bach, Debussy and Schumann.

Grim Pathos Mood of Players' Current Bill; Strong Season Brought to Successful Ending

...JUST A SMALL ONE THIS TIME: Liz Fillo (standing) and Ann Judson are playing in Paul Zindel's "And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little," for Community Players. It will be given this weekend and next at the P.C.P. Playhouse, 171 Broadmead.

Paul Zindel's, "And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little", is a strong ending to a successful season for the Princeton Community Players. While not without flaws, the play provides the opportunity for three strong and perceptive performances by Liz Fillo, Ann Judson and Diana Crane as the Reardon sisters. It is in the sometime bantering, sometime bitter exchanges among these three that the play comes to life and succeeds in illuminating the grim pathos of existence that is the playwright's essential message.

Very early in the play we find out that the Reardon sisters are all part of the New York City educational system, although each has risen to a different level. They also share in coming to terms with the fairly recent and gruesome death of their mother from throat cancer. It is only later that we discover that each of them in some special way has been sexually crippled by their indoctrination by the mother in the evils of men and the horrors and repulsion of the sexual act.

The action of the play begins with Ceil's (Diana Crane) return to the apartment of her two sisters. Her visit has little to do with the emotional state of Anna (Ann Judson) as far as sisterly concern goes. Ceil is a superintendent, and her position is being undermined by Anna's deteriorating mental condition and charges of an unspecified sexual encounter with one of her chemistry students.

Standing between Anna and Ceil is Catherine (Liz Fillo). It was she and Anna who tended to the mother in her last days, and it is Catherine who has tried to deal with Anna's aberrations and the world which threatens to destroy her. In her role as a vice principal, Catherine has watched Anna become the brunt of cruel student jokes and the subject of the evil gossip of the teachers. It is no wonder that this Miss Reardon "drinks a little." (actually better than a fifth of rye during the play's hour plus action.)

The three actresses and director Kimothy Cruse have done an outstanding job in bringing this tortured trio to life. This is no small task since Zindel has also peopled his play with the Steins, who are straight out of a third-rate Neil Simon play. Melanie Haymond and Lorin Zissman try their best, but they could have more easily swum Lake Carnegie with anvils under each arm than to bring any semblance of reality to such out-worn and stereotyped characters. Their heavy-handed and loutish behavior breaks the darker mood of the play, and it is only by the fine ensemble playing of the group that the deeper intent of the play is not lost.

Mr. Cruse has chosen to present his play in a standard stage-to-audience fashion. This presents some audience difficulty at the Broadmead theatre since the floor is not sloped. However, Mr. Cruse has a fine sense of movement and an artist's eye for stage pictures that almost transcends this problem. It would be wise none the less, to avoid the tall or the abundantly hirsute in selecting your seat.

One further point on the production aspects of the play: the lighting seemed too harsh and insistent to be in keeping with the overall mood and style of the performance. In all other respects the production demonstrated that attention to detail and authenticity which marks Princeton Community Players' presentations.

Performances of the play will be given this weekend, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 23, 24 and 25. There is also an extra weekend Friday and Saturday May 30 and 31. Curtain for Friday and Saturday is at 8:30, while Sunday performances begin at 7:30. Tickets Friday and Saturday are $3.50; Sunday the price is $2.50. Performances are at the PCP

MONTGOMERY

The Godfather, Part II. Francis Ford Coppola's superb continuation of the saga of the murderous Corleone family was named the best American film of 1974. It is playing in the Princeton area for the first time at the Montgomery.

Nearly as long as the first "Godfather" Part II (200 minutes) is just as good. Together they are a modern spectacular on film, prompting one critic to call them one of the three greatest motion picture epics along with "Gone With the Wind" and "Birth of a Nation."

Part II is more sweeping, covering some 60 years, and less graphic in its slayings, toning down the earlier romanticism and delving more into the nature of power and corruption.

Beginning its chronicle in the late 50s with Michael Corleone (Al Pacino again superbly taut and low key) at the height of his inherited powers and comfortably installed in Las Vegas, the film takes on epic proportions, wending its way toward the 60s and Senate Committee hearings while periodically flashing back to the early 1900s and the Sicilian roots of the young Vito Corleone, played masterfully by Robert DeNiro.

There are several outstanding performances, especially that of Lee Strasberg as an aging gangster, reportedly patterned closely on Meyer Lansky; Robert Duvall, who returns as the family consigliere; playwright Michael F. Gazzo, who portrays an old family lieutenant who almost rats to the FBI; and John Cazale, as Pacino's pathetic older brother who simply-mindedly betrays him and is rubbed out.

Part II is a harsh comment on the corruption of power and a tour de force for Coppola. The final scene with Pacino, alone, ruminating on his loveless power is devastating.

PLAYHOUSE

The Passenger. Starring Jack Nicholson as an alienated journalist who takes the identity of a dead stranger and steps into a tragic mystery, "The Passenger" is Michelangelo Antonioni's most accessible film since "Blow Up." Still, it is a bit too cold and elusive to be fully satisfying.

Nicholson is a British TV journalist who has been engaged in a futile search for a local guerilla leader in North Africa. Frustrated, he returns to his hotel room where he finds a fellow guest dead from a heart attack. He is struck with the thought of exchanging identities and he does, switching passport photos and possessions and reporting his own death.

It is gradually revealed that the job of the dead man whose identity Nicholson has taken is fraught with danger. Even more important to Nicholson, however, is the need to escape a failed marriage and the purposelessness in his career. When he discovers his wife is searching for details of his "death," escape becomes his prime drive.

In Barcelona, Nicholson meets up with Maria Schneider (of "Last Tango"), who urges him to carry on the plans of the man whose identity he has taken. The situation is intriguing, combining Hitchcock with a dose of Kafka, but Antonioni chooses to concentrate less on drama than on alienation. Beyond the intellectual exercise of puzzling out the ambiguities and loose ends there is little to spark the emotions.

Visually, the film is another story. Antonioni's technique and brilliant eye for composition, texture and color are unsurpassed. He achieves unbelievable effects with his camera with grace and ease.

Nicholson seems incapable of a poor performance. Miss Schneider plays the girl as a tried sounding board, eliciting information without a drop of feeling.

GARDEN

Young Frankenstein. After destroying the Hollywood western in "Blazing Saddles", Mel Brooks this time does hilarious battle against the cliches of the monster melodramas of the 1930s. Filmed in black and white to further evoke the atmosphere of the bygone genre, "Young Frankenstein" is without a doubt Brooks' finest, most cohesive film to date.

To his credit, Brooks is content to avoid slipping in smutty, offensive sight-gags and one-liners and sticks with the intrinsic humor of the situation. The story by Brooks and Gene Wilder uses Mary Shelley's novel and earlier Universal horror epics as a freeform structure on which to drape their own gaily strewn madnasses.

Peter Boyle plays the monster in brilliant style as a cross between a criminal stud and overgrown infant. Others in a fine cast are Cloris Leachman as the ominous Frau Blucher; Wilder as the original doctor's grandson; Madeline Kahn, an absurdly prim fiancée whose operatic delight at the monster's sexual prowess is heartfelt, piercing and utterly hilarious; Teri Garr, a nubile blonde lab assistant; and Gene Hackman in a surprise cameo role.

Loaded with sight gags and some fine slapstick, the film's prime moments are its brilliant, on-target parodies of actual scenes in the original Frankenstein outings. A high point occurs when Wilder, convinced that all the monster needs is a little self-confidence, bills the two of them into a top hat and soft-shoe act. Their "Puttin' On the Ritz" ends in panic after the Academy of Sciences hoos the monster off the stage.

Take the kids, too. It's PG rated.

COURSES OFFERED

In Theatre. Classes taught by David Eliet and Anne W. Scurria will be held for six weeks in acting, movement, improvisation and creative dramatics beginning June 30. Age groupings will be 8-12, 13-15 and 16 to adult.

Each class will last 90 minutes and will meet twice a week, with an additional three-hour workshop for adults on Monday and Tuesday nights. Private tutoring will be available in any of the above areas, plus playwriting, directing and design.

Mr. Eliet is a former professor of Theatre Arts at Trinity College in Hartford, Conn., where he taught acting, directing and playwriting. His scripts have been produced in this country and abroad. Ms. Scurria, an actress, received her training at Trinity College. Tufts-in-London, Schiller College in Berlin and the Herbert Berghoff Studio in N.Y. and has completed an intensive training program at the National Theatre Institute. Mr. Eliet and Ms. Scurria are currently forming their own company, the Studio Theatre, which will open in Hartford this fall.

IT'S NEW To Us

TWO NEW STORES

Open on Hulfish. For over two years people have used wooden sidewalks and walked around the construction at the corner of Witherspoon and Hulfish Streets, all the time wondering if the end result would ever materialize. It has, and the attractive complex of new stores makes it difficult to remember that this corner was once a gas station.

One of the new occupants is Princeton Stained Glass, a studio and store opened by two men who refer to their venture as "a step backward so to speak." In 1971 Al Brum and Pete Stolberg started a stained glass business in Flemington, and from the day they opened it grew with leaps and bounds.

They were shortly wholesaling stained glass lamps throughout the country and employing 23 workers. While many people would view such growth as a life's dream, Messrs. Brum and Stolberg felt things had gotten "out of hand." They, therefore, sold the Flemington business and began work on their new store with the intention of returning to the more creative aspects of stained glass work.

This new shop has three main areas - the gallery, pre-cut kits, and all the supplies needed to make your own creations. Most obvious upon first entering is the gallery which displays the fine hand-leaded stained glass designs of the owners.

From Paper to Glass. According to Mr. Stolberg, "anything drawn on paper can be done in stained glass." We saw lamps, clocks, mirrors, terrariums, and even small frames containing pressed flowers, $7.95 and up. Most unusual is a handsome terrarium composed of a green and white multi-sided base and a clear removable globe with a green climbing ivy pattern, $90.

We also particularly liked a six-sided hanging planter of a soft coral opalescent glass that comes with a small light, $35, and the enchanting wall of stained glass windows demonstrating some of the basic themes that can be done on a custom basis.

For many of the lamps and clocks there are pre-cut kits with all the necessary materials (except for a soldering gun.) With a little experience these are fairly easy kits, and if you do run into problems, Princeton Stained Glass will happily help solve them. And, most important, there is a considerable dollar saving.

The kits cost $43.70 for the clocks and from $49.95 to $138.50 for the lamps, but if the studio does the work for you the price is two to three times that cost. Mr. Brum says that with all stained glass work the cost of materials is negligible. The price is really determined by the number of work hours required which in turn depends upon the number of individual pieces involved in any design.

Design Your Own. On the other hand the shop also carries all the supplies necessary to make your own design, and here your cost can be cut even further. There is sheet, opalescent and cathedral glass; molds; copper foil; leading; tools and various books to help you design and execute your work. There is also a supply of lamp parts, including Victorian-styled bases in a white metal with a dull satin Flemish finish.

We were told, "There are a staggering number of people involved in this field." Once people get into the craft, they can't get out." If you would like to try your hand at it or work on a particular problem area (usually cutting according to Mr. Brum), classes will be starting the first week in June. There will be day and evening sessions for both beginners and advanced, $40 for six weeks. You will be working right in the studio with Mr. Brum who has taught for the past four years in Hunterdon County and Bound Brook's adult schools.

Another feature here is the repair and restoration of old stained glass lamps or windows. All in all this seemed a very accommodating shop. There are quantity discounts for professionals and semi-professionals; technical advice for anyone who asks; and for a minimal charge they will locally hang any stained glass lamp purchased there.

Two extras here are the sun-catchers a retired gentleman makes for them and the bent-glass lampshades made from the original molds of the John Morgan Company, a competitor of Tiffany in the early 1900's. These Victorian shades are a combination of old and new, and quite unique as only a few are made each year, $90 and up.

Princeton Stained Glass, located at 4-6 Hulfish Street, is open Monday through Saturday from 10 to 5:30.

Also New. Another new tenant at 4-6 Hulfish Street is The Treasure Trove. Mrs. Beatrice Cohen's second gift shop. Having operated the main store in Hightstown for the past five years, she decided to open a Princeton branch in order to carry a somewhat finer line of gifts.

Mrs. Cohen says, "I like very fine things, and while I can't do it all at once, I hope to grow. The gift market is so vast and exciting. I thoroughly enjoy it."

Although Spring has been unusually late this year, warm weather appears to have finally arrived and it's time to get those porches and patios in operation. A particularly appealing addition might be one of the large ceramic animals, two of which also function as tables - a monkey with a book on his head or a silver white snail with a white cushion on its back. Other choices include a white cat, a giraffe and a tiger's head, $69.50 to $130.

When you move the houseplants out for the summer, put them in a white wrought iron plant stand with pretty cane-patterned sides, $20. Or, if you prefer separate planters, there is a green ceramic frog or terra cotta buckets, $4 and up.

Once you've completed the porch, take time out for your favorite sport and then toast it all with a drink. There are nautical glasses, each with a different blue and white sailboat; short mugs with frosted tennis players; small rackets that double as coasters; and a large golf ball to hold your ice.

Spring is also wedding time, and Mrs. Cohen has many gift suggestions. We saw carving sets with either bone china or stag handles, handsome French crystal vases and bowls by Vannes Le Chatel, and several casseroles such as a white oval one with a fluted top and shell handle, $26.

Figurines from Japan. The Japanese are noted for their ability to manufacture almost anything inexpensively, and an example of this is Treasure Trove's line of figurines which Mrs. Cohen says "are beautiful for the money."

Enlarged pores on the skin are caused by clogging with heavy creams, foundation base, or face powder, and by eating too much rich, fatty food, that overworks and pushes the pores open. Too much salt also enlarges pores. So cut down on both fat and salt in the diet. Strict cleanliness must be followed in caring for the skin, as enlarged pores are a harbor for germs and infection may result. Dash cold water over the face after cleansing.

Mark Jacobs, son of Prof. and Mrs. W.P. Jacobs, 64 MacLean Circle, has been appointed assistant professor of biology at Swarthmore College, to start in September. He has also been awarded a NATO post-doctoral fellowship to study in Britain, which he will take in 1976-77, on a year's leave of absence from Swarthmore. A graduate of Princeton High School in 1967 and of Harvard College in 1971, he will receive his Ph.D. in plant biochemistry from Stanford University this summer.

George F. Bush, 391 Nassau Street, will conduct the sixth year of his writers' workshops in Stonington, Maine, beginning August 10. The one week workshops will deal with the novel, poetry, basic writing techniques and juvenile writing and will feature well known authors such as Richard Eberhart and Benjamin Appel.

The Student Chapter of the AIA at Mercer County College has selected Princeton architect J. Robert Hillier as the Outstanding Professional of the Year for his service to the college. The presentation was made at the chapter's annual banquet and was followed by a talk by Mr. Hillier on architecture as the end result of sociological forces in a democratic society. Mr. Hillier returned the monetary award to the school to be used as a scholarship for a minority woman interested in architecture as a career. He is president of The Hillier Group at 791 Alexander Road.

A member of Princeton University's varsity golf team which is currently 11-1 on the season and second place winners in the first annual Ivy League Tournament is Curt Hayes, freshman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hayes, Cherry Valley Road.

Beth Sanford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence H. Sanford, Jr., 910 Sanford, Jr., 910 Princeton Kingston Road, is a member of the Princeton University women's basketball team which has enjoyed its finest season ever, posting an 11-4 overall mark and a perfect 7-0 record in Ivy League competition. A sophomore, Miss Sanford is a graduate of Princeton Day School.

Navy Hull Maintenance Technician and Fireman Apprentice Carmelo Mauro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mauro of 26 Hillside Road, has arrived in the Mediterranean aboard the dock landing ship USS Pensacola. He will participate in training exercises as part of the U.S. Sixth Fleet, and visit several Mediterranean countries.

Dr. Peter Nathan, 28 Beech Hill Circle, professor psychology in the Rutgers Graduate School and director of the Alcohol Behavior Research Laboratory at Rutgers University, has been appointed chairman of the Alcohol Research Review Committee of the National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism.

Boston's Berklee College of Music has accepted James Zimmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zimmerman of Burnt Hill Road, Skillman, for entrance to its seven-week summer program which starts June 27. Curriculum will include private instrumental instruction, arranging, improvisation and solo-orchestral performance.

Presenting the most popular bank services in a package

Apply now... Take the "three way" or the "free way"

We've put the most popular bank services into one package. It's called the Full Circle Account, and there are two ways you can get it.

The "three way"

The complete package is yours for a small monthly fee of $3. That's the average cost of a checking account alone, yet it pays for checking and a lot more with Full Circle Account. But there's a better way...

The "free way"

You can also have a Full Circle Account at no cost whatsoever if you maintain a balance of $300 or more in your regular savings account. Not only will you be getting a super value for free, but your savings will earn 5% interest compounded daily.

The Full Circle Account package:

- Free unlimited checking
Write as many checks as you like. No minimum balance required and no monthly maintenance fee.
- Full Circle I.D. & Check Cashing Card
Your Full Circle Account Card makes all Full Circle services readily available to you. It also guarantees that your personal check and/or paycheck will be cashed without delay or additional identification.
- Free personalized checks
Serially numbered checks personalized with your name and address are supplied at no cost.
- Bounce-free checking
If you write a check for more than your balance, we'll cover it up to your pre-arranged limit. (Normal finance charges apply.)
- 5% Regular Savings
All Full Circle Account customers will enjoy the maximum interest on savings compounded daily.
- Discounts on loans
You're entitled to a discount on most personal installment loans.
- Free money orders, cashier checks and certified checks
There's no charge when you need a money order or an official check.
- Free travelers' checks
Forget about the fee... they're free!
- BankAmericard
Full Circle Account customers receive their own BankAmericard, the most popular charge card in the world. (Normal finance charges apply.)
- Automatic transfer from checking to saving
Tell us how much you want to save monthly, and we'll automatically transfer that amount from your checking into your savings account.
- Free bank-by-mail
Save on gas and bank-by-mail. We'll supply free postage both ways.

ART In Princeton

PHOTOS ON DISPLAY

Scenes from New Jersey. Color prints of New Jersey subjects by photographer William Kerns are on display at the Engineering Quadrangle of Princeton University, weekdays 9-5 through June 10. Kerns' favorite subject matter is the New Jersey shore, ancient buildings and natural textures, and his work reflects his interest in preserving the natural beauty of the state.

Princeton's School of Engineering-Applied Science has a strong program in environmental studies, which led to the invitation to Kerns to exhibit his work at the school. Beginning in the late 30s and early 40s, Kerns spent his weekends on photographic excursions, recording in black-and-white the yet unspoiled rural scenes of Northern New Jersey.

Until his retirement in 1973, he regarded photography as an absorbing hobby. However, in March 1974 he turned to color film and began producing pictures that led one critic to remark "he captures the quiet beauty of unspoiled winter beach with insight and delicacy suggesting the qualities of watercolor."

A resident of Chatham and Harvey Cedars, New Jersey, Kerns exhibited his photographs in the amateur competition at the Ocean County Fair last summer, taking first prize. His first one-man show was held in Princeton's Gallery 100 last December.

Kerns, a retired chemical engineer specializing in safety, was formerly an executive of a major oil company. He has served on the Board of Directors of the National Safety Council and played a major role in safety affairs throughout New Jersey.

at 8 at the First National Bank of Central Jersey, Rocky Hill. His subject will be "Our Hidden Problems."

Mr. Nero, a history teacher at Plainfield High School and former mayor of North Plainfield, has been particularly active in environmental problems. As a Freeholder, he has supported a community mental health program, creation of a county division on ageing, open agenda for Freeholder meetings, citizen participation on county boards, and ethical standards for politics.

The meeting is open to the general public and will be preceded by a short business meeting at 7:45. A nominating committee composed of Willfred Bennett, Chairman, Marguerite D'Amico, and Hildegard West will present a slate of proposed officers for club action.

Canoeing, camping, sailing, tennis, horseback riding, and bi-weekly barbecues are on tap for Princeton Ski Club members and guests this month and next, according to incoming president James Reid, of Hightstown. Pre-program signups are required for most activities, and interested persons are invited to write the club for a schedule at P.O. Box 333, Princeton.

Bi-weekly tennis is played on the Princeton Community Park courts on alternate Wednesday evenings beginning May 28. On other Wednesdays the club holds BYO barbecues at the yards of members; the first of these is May 21 at the home of Janet Thompson, 611 Lake Dr., Princeton, and potential members are welcome.

Horseback riding at the Circle A Ranch, with a picnic to follow, is planned for Saturday, May 31; sailing on Barnegat Bay (leaving from Island Heights) is scheduled for Saturday, June 7, and Sunday, June 29; and there will be canoeing and camping along the Delaware River in the area from Calicoon to Minisink, N.Y., June 21 and 22.

New officers, installed include, in addition to Reid, Wendy Saho, of Mercerville, vice-president; Don Channin, Kingston, treasurer; Toby Tuckman, Kendall Park, and Janet Thompson, Princeton, secretaries.

The annual meeting of the Princeton chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be held at the First Reformed Church in Rocky Hill at 11 this Thursday.

The Lawrence Township Senior Citizens Club II will meet Tuesday at noon in the American Legion Hall, 100 Rerwyn Place, for games and discussion of plans for a future trip. All senior citizens 60 years or over are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Senior residents of Princeton will hold the monthly meeting of the Eager Elders Club on Friday at 1:30 at the Harrison Street Firehouse. There will be a sign-up for a trip to the smallest winery in New Jersey. Edward Sweeney will be organizing an interest group concerned with legislation that pertains to older Americans. Anyone interested in serving on a steering committee or who has ideas for a summer picnic is urged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

A LOOK AT THE FUTURE

On TV, Princeton University Physics Professor Gerard K. O'Neill and Sociology Professor Sozanne Keller will discuss the future with Barbara Walters and others on N.B.C.'s "Not for Women Only." Scheduled for Philadelphia's Channel 3 the week beginning May 26 and on Channel 4 in both New York City and the District of Columbia in the week beginning June 9, the series will be broadcast from 9 to 9:30 a.m. in 85 American cities.

Prof. O'Neill, who suggests that we can relieve many of the mounting pressures on earth by using existing technology to build manufacturing facilities in space, appears on the first three half hour segments of the week-long series named "The Year 2001." In the last two days of the series, Prof. Keller, who has written much about the future, discusses a new outlook on life, work, and sex which is evolving from the effects of automation, from new modes of work, and from the need to share resources.

READING PROGRAM SET

By Merwick Specialists. School officials and teachers in Princeton this week are receiving information about the Summer Reading Workshop sponsored by the Communication Disorders Unit of The Princeton Medical Center's Merwick Extended Care and Rehabilitation Unit. The six-week course, which runs from June 25 through August 6, will meet three times a week in one and a half hour sessions.

Are You Missing These?

Borough police have recovered two lost items which they hope the owners will come to headquarters and claim.

One is a leather money folder containing $30. There are initials on the folder but no other identification. It was found last week on Nassau Street in front of Huli's Shoe Store.

A red and white Murray tricycle was found near 205 Nassau Street. It has a small license plate with the name 'Becky' on it.

Merle Rose, M.S., and Mary Ann Mossa, M. Ed., reading therapists on the Merwick professional staff, recommend the program to young people through high school age whose reading ability is below their potential and/or grade level, and who can work well in a small group. Students will be grouped according to instructional needs and age (Primary, Intermediate, Junior High and High School). These groups of three or four students each will work on reading skills such as word analysis, vocabulary, and comprehension, and on writing and study skills.

Registration for the summer reading program will be held mornings from May 19-30. Registration is by appointment, since a diagnostic reading analysis will be done on each participant. For further information, including schedule and fees, call the Communication Disorders Unit at 921-7700, extension 404 or 226 between 8:30 and 5.

FILM SERIES FREE

In Rocky Hill, Haw our way of looking at the world has been changed by Galileo, Darwin and Freud is the topic of a free film series to be shown at the Mary Jacobs Library in Rocky Hill on three successive Thursdays, beginning May 22, at 8 p.m. The series consists of discussion guides and written materials to accompany the films and is sponsored by the National Project Center for Film and the Humanities.

A non-profit organization, funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities in cooperation with the City University of New York, the Project Center has put together a series of programs using film to link the humanities to contemporary life. The titles of the film are: "The Starry Messenger," "Darwin's Bulldog" and "Freud, the Hidden Nature of Man."

Written guides accompanying each film will be available at the Mary Jacobs Library about a week before the film showing. For further information, call Sheila Hess, Program Community Chairman, at 924-7073.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

By Red Cross. The Youth Services Program of the Princeton chapter of the American Red Cross is conducting its annual recruitment drive for youth volunteers for its summer programs. Youth between the ages of 13 and 18 are sought to fill volunteer positions in agencies and institutions located throughout the Princeton area, including Princeton Junction, Cranbury, Hightstown, Lawrenceville, Skillman and Trenton.

Positions are available for those interested in working at camps for emotionally and mentally impaired persons, nursing homes, day care centers, rehabilitation centers, hospitals, business offices and libraries. The Red Cross is also seeking volunteers with special arts and crafts talents willing to teach classes. Transportation will be provided in some cases.

Volunteers' schedules are designed to meet the needs of the volunteers, as well as the needs of the agency for which they serve. For further information, contact Maryann Fazio, Youth Director, American Red Cross, Princeton Chapter, at 924-2404, weekdays between 9 and 4:30.

$3 MILLION TOPPED

In Princeton Annual Giving. Over 22,000 Princeton University alumni, parents and friends gave $3.5 million in unrestricted funds during the past year. In releasing the figures, Roby Harrington III, a New York advertising executive who chaired the 1974-75 annual giving program, said it was the eighth consecutive year in which more than $3 million has been raised.

A member of the Class of 1951 and a resident of Darien, Conn., Mr. Harrington attributed the campaign's success, in large part, to the efforts of nearly 2,000 volunteers who operated on class and regional bases. "The results might have been greater," he observed, "had the nation's economy been stranger than it was before and during the campaign." While the number of alumni contributors increased over the previous year, the amount raised was some $150,000 less.

Certain classes, all of which will hold major reunions on the University campus in June, were cited by Harrington for special recognition. They are the 55th-year Class of 1920, the 50th-year Class of 1925, the 25th-year Class of 1950, the 15th-year Class of 1960 and the 5th-year Class of 1970. The amount raised by the Class of 1950 was $550,000, some $50,000 greater than any class has ever produced in the 35-year-old program.

In 1940-41, the first year Princeton undertook an annual giving drive, $80,000 was raised with 18 percent of the alumni body giving. Since that year some $54,000,000 has been given through the annual fund appeals. This year's alumni support, 57 percent, is among the highest recorded by an American college or university.

ADMISSIONS TESTING

Chapin School, Princeton, New Jersey, a coeducational day school (K-8) will offer admissions tests for students applying for the academic year 1975-76 or for placement in the Summer School. The tests will be given at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, May 24, 1975 at the school on Princeton Pike. Chapin School welcomes all applicants regardless of color, religion, or national origin.

Parents may receive application forms and further information by calling the school at 924-2449. Return of the proper application, along with a non-refundable $25 testing fee, will constitute registration for the test. All applicants should be registered by May 23, 1975.

Richard K. Greenfield

RESIGNATION ANNOUNCED
Greenfield Leaving MCCC.
Dr. Richard K. Greenfield, founding President of Mercer County Community College since its establishment in 1966, has announced his resignation, effective June 30.

Dr. Greenfield, who lives at 3 Honeybrook Drive, has been named Chancellor of the Junior College District of St. Louis-St. Louis County, Missouri, after a nationwide search had been conducted to fill that position. "The elation and excitement of the new challenges and opportunities that this position offers cannot compensate fully for the deep personal loss my family and I will feel in leaving Mercer County Community College, our friends and this community that have become so much a part of our lives," Dr. Greenfield said in his letter of resignation to the MCCC Board of Trustees.

Dr. Greenfield, a graduate of Cornell University and Columbia University, assumed the presidency of Mercer County Community College at the time of the merging of Trenton Junior College and the School of Industrial Arts into the newly formed community college system. Prior to coming to Mercer County, he had been the founding president for three years of Sullivan County Community College in New York State.

During his nine years at MCCC, enrollment increased from 2,818 to 6,547 full and part-time students. Career and transfer programs were expanded from 32 to 52 and a $23 million campus was completed in West Windsor Township. Currently a new downtown Trenton facility, the James Kerney Center, is under construction and due to open for the spring of 1976.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

At Recording for the Blind. Replacements are needed for vacationing volunteers in Recording for the Blind's year-round program of tape recording textbooks for blind school and college students. Most urgently needed are readers with knowledge of advanced mathematics, physics and other scientific subjects as well as those with a native pronunciation and knowledge of French, but readers of general college-level subjects are also welcome. Readers are required to pass a voice test which is evaluated at RFB headquarters in New York.

Volunteers willing to give an hour and a half each week are also needed to duplicate tapes and to monitor readings to catch and correct errors. All

TRACING ANCESTORS

Described by Princeton Author. Nathaniel Burt, 20 Hibben Road, has authored a story for the June issue of "Ford Times" magazine. The issue, devoted to New England, is a special effort by Ford Motor Company to help attract attention to the American bicentennial observance.

"The Pleasures of Hunting Ancestors" describes the fun a person can have tracking down his ancestors, particularly in New England. It is one of 10 stories in the magazine's special edition which covers the rich heritage, scenic countryside, crafts and cuisine of the six yankee states.

Mr. Burt is a writer and genealogist whose research often has led him to New England. His book, "The Perennial Philadelphians," was a definitive study of Philadelphia society. More recently he published "First Families," a history of families who constitute an American aristocracy. Mr. Burt has written several novels and is working on a book about the origins of American museums.

Did you know that the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race attracts the largest single-day attendance of any sporting event in the world?... The Indy draws between 250,000 to 300,000 fans each year and no other one-day sports event anywhere gets that many people at the site of the event.

Did you ever realize that almost all the great golfers in history have been less than 6-feet tall?... Even today, most of the top golfers are less than 6-feet... For instance, Jack Nicklaus is 5-11; Arnie Palmer 5-10; Billy Casper 5-11; Lee Trevino 5-7; Dave Stockton 5-11; Tom Watson 5-9; Gene Littler 5-9½; Bruce Crampton 5-11; Dave Hill 5-11; Gary Player 5-8 and so on... In almost every other sport, 6-footers have increasingly dominated their games - but not in golf.

Here's an oddity... The man considered by many to be the greatest baseball player of all-time, Ty Cobb, NEVER played on a team that won the World Series... Despite playing in the majors 24 years, and playing on some good teams, Cobb never was on a team that won the world's championship... That's hard to believe, but it's true.

Eddie Donovan, First at Princeton in 1943, Ends Career as University's Baseball Coach

When Eddie Donovan walked off Clarke Field on a sunlit afternoon last Thursday, he thought that the next day would be a carbon copy of hundreds of others he had previously known in Princeton: a couple of ball games against a tough opponent.

But it rained that night and the next morning, and the doubleheader against St. John's had to be cancelled because of wet grounds. Retirement came a day early to the soft-spoken, transplanted Rhode Islander, who was assigned to the V-12 Naval Training School here in 1943 as a lieutenant and liked Princeton so much that he never really went back home to Newport.

When the war ended and Ken Fairman came back from his duty with General Patton in Europe, Donovan was offered a job coaching at Princeton. In addition to ability, versatility was his forte: through the years, he has served as coach of jayvee football, freshman basketball and varsity baseball, and now he is going out with the knowledge that in the past three decades, he has coached more Princeton undergraduates than any other man who followed the profession here.

During the Charlie Caldwell and Dick Colman regimes in football, there were numerous instances of players who had started out as jayvees under Donovan advancing to starting roles on standout Tiger football teams and, in some instances, earning All-Ivy recognition. As freshman basketball coach (from 1948-1968), he began the development of such stars as George Sella, Joe Holman, Bud Maadestad, the Belz brothers, Pete Campbell, Art Hyland and a fellow named Bill Bradley. In an era when freshman schedules were far tougher than today's mixture of Ivy teams and B squads weakened by the freshman eligibility rule, Donovan twice produced perfect records for a season while winning 180 times and losing only 78.

In 1953, the year after Eddie succeeded Emerson Dickman, one-time Boston Red Sox pitcher, as varsity baseball coach, after having worked with him as his assistant, he won the Eastern League championship. To no one's surprise, there was no hitting to back up the fine pitching that kept the Tigers in the running, and veteran fans who watched at University Field that year still recall Donovan's ability to manufacture key runs with little more than an occasional walk, a stolen base and a suicide squeeze play.

Pitching and good fielding were usually a Princeton characteristic, but the long hits and the big inning rarely graced Tiger baseball. Still, Donovan managed what generally seemed to be more than a logical share of victories. After last week's extra-inning, 2-1 triumph over Fairleigh-Dickinson, he had recorded 321, lost 283 and tied single between first and second, delivered by Bill MacMillan, whose father had played football under Bill Roper, followed. That was the ball game. Eddie Donovan still remembers it with the kind of low-key pleasure that exudes from him, and maybe somewhere along the line, the word got to Bill Clarke.

As early as February, when Princeton's 1975 squad assembled for practice in Jadwin Cage, hopes rose that this team would give Eddie an Eastern League title as a going-away present. A year ago, the Tigers had rumbled somewhat erratically but strongly down the stretch to tie Harvard for first place on the final day of the regular season. They lost the playoff at Cambridge, but most of the team was returning intact and maybe this was the year.

It turned out not to be, largely because the hitting vanished when it was needed most. Runners were left on bases like steaks of corn in field at harvest-time, and the 12-- a mark that gave him 18th place among the nation's college coaches despite the fact that many teams in the south, southwest and Pacific Coast play 50 games a season.

Any coach's career of such length is filled with memorable victories, but one above others comes to mind because it was interlocked with thoughts of one of Donovan's predecessors, the salty, gnarled Baltimore Oriole catcher, Bill Clarke. On a steaming day in June, 1961, as Princeton and Yale met in the traditional commencement game, the Tigers' new diamond east of Palmer Stadium was dedicated to Bill Clarke's memory.

Gene Hanks '15, long a friend of Princeton baseball, noted in his remarks to the thousands of costumed alumni present for the occasion, that it would be entirely fitting if the 1961 Tigers "won one for Bill" to mark the occasion. Eight and two-thirds innings later, however, Princeton was one strike away from an 8-5 defeat.

In the bottom of the ninth, the Tigers put the first two men aboard, but the Elis forced each of them at third. A walk then loaded the bases.

Three successive Princeton batters then took a variety of counts, but each had two strikes on him before getting his bat on the ball. The first grounded third, a wide throw for a force at second drawing an error and allowing one run to score.

A solid line drive by shortstop Jack Whitehouse between short and third followed, but the runner on second had to hold up momentarily to keep from being hit by the ball, and a good throw home would have nailed him. It was wide, and two runs scored to bring Princeton even at 8-8.

Now there were runners at second and third, and a clean close ones all went to the opposition. Veteran Princeton baseball-watchers ruminated that maybe the hitters were pressing too hard because they wanted to win so much in Donovan's final year.

If the season was frustrating, it ended on a happy note. On Wednesday, Captain Scott McHenry, Mark Softy and Bob Lorentz all worked three-inning stints to hurl a 7-0 shutout against Trenton State. A four-run third, one of the Tigers' bigger innings this year, wrapped matters up early.

Next day, a Fairleigh-Dickinson team that had won 23 of 34 decisions took the Tigers into the 10th at 1-1. Princeton then won it without getting the ball out of the infield (on a fielder's choice, a clean steal of second, another fielder's choice, and a scratch infield hit that bounced off the pitcher's glove and never left the grass.) In a different sense than the usual connotation, Eddie Donovan's last victory had been a laugher.

Fortunately for Princeton, Eddie (who will be succeeded next spring by Princeton native Len Rivers) will remain on the scene. He'll be active directing an informal fall baseball program and

Tiger Wins Batting Title

If Eddie Donovan's 1975 team suffered a season-long hitting slump, it nonetheless produced the first Eastern League batting champion to wear Orange and Black since 1943—coincidentally, the first year the Tiger coach saw Princeton.

Kevin Plunkett, a catcher-turned-first-baseman, led the ten-team league this season with 19 hits in 43 at bats for a .442 average, 29 points above Gary Brewsaugh of Yale. Seven of Plunkett's hits were doubles—the top figure in this category.

The last Princetonian to lead the League was Roy Talcott, who did so in 1943 with a .385 average. A standout pitcher in his sophomore year, Talcott injured his arm and won the batting title as an outfielder.

teaching golf and tennis to classes in physical education.

Like many a New Englander, Eddie Donovan is not a man of many words. Conversely, an awful lot of people around here can't say enough about him.

FOUR FIRSTS FOR PHS

In County Track Meet. Like other teams in the area, the Princeton High School track team has had to take a back seat this year to undefeated Trenton.

But Saturday the Little Tigers moved up front with the powerful Tornadoes as each had four individual winners in the third annual Mercer County Track and Field Championships held at Ewing High. Six meet records were broken, two by the Little Tigers.

As expected, Mark McLean broke the existing 12-6 pole vault record set last year by Hopewell Valley's Dan Williams with a mark of 13-6. McLean has the area's best mark of 13-9½.

Another County meet mark fell to Princeton's Royce Flippin, no newcomer to setting records. Royce ran the mile in 4:25.3, clipping almost five seconds from the 4:30 record set last year by Jim Wylie of Ewing. Flippin also holds the meet two-mile record of 9:36.7.

A surprise double winner was Princeton sophomore Ken Bullock, who won the 100 dash in 10 flat and the 220 in 22.7. Trenton's Wilton Genright had been top seeded in both events. Bullock, who reported that he had been working all week on practicing his starts, also finished third in the high jump.

Capturing second in that event was teammate Fred Berkelhammer, who leaped 6-0, one-inch below winning Reggie Garveau of Hopewell Valley. McLean tied for fifth place with 5-10.

Trenton runners set new meet records in the 440, where two entrants eclipsed the old mark of 49.9, the 880 and mile relay. Dave Lion of PHS finished third in the triple jump (39-2) and fifth in the long jump.

Ewing Wins, 79-52. Ewing defeated the Little Tigers last week in a dual meet, 79-52, capturing 11 firsts in 15 events.

Bullock won the 100 and 220 dashes, while John Mosely led a PHS sweep in the javelin and Berkelhammer, McLean and Bullock finished 1-2-3 in the high jump. Ewing's Dwight Volz upset McLean in the pole vault, while Wylie defeated Tim Anderson of PHS in the mile and Bill Carter edged Flippin in the 880.

STAATS IS VICTOR

In Softball Tournament. Staats made its return to Princeton a successful one as the Mercer County Major League team posted a 5-1 record to capture first place in the Princeton Invitational Softball Tournament, last weekend at Community Park. Ten teams battled for the top elimination competition.

Staats E & G, which played previously in the Princeton Recreation League as ConteStaats, was joined by other Princeton-based teams, Ivy Inn, Andy's Tavern and Kingston Wine, which were also in the tournament as three of the last four teams in contention. The final confrontation was between Ivy Inn and Staats.

Ivy advanced by defeating Andy's Tavern, 6-5, with a three run rally in the last of the seventh inning and Wence's Tavern, 14-0, behind an 11-run, 11-hit first inning barrage. Staats had little trouble disposing of 3 Season's, 11-1, and Romeo and Juliet 14-3, but had to rely on a three-run rally in the last of the seventh inning to defeat

 Ivy Inn and Staats clashed for the first time on Sunday when they played the championship bracket semifinals. Both scored one run in the first inning. In the fourth, Staats added a run on hits by Bob Lewis and Tom DeVito and three more in the sixth on hits by Chuck Schuab, Frank Cawley and Bill Staats. Bruce Sandvick's brilliant catch of Bobby Lewis' blast saved a home run, as Staats won, 5-1. When Simone's knocked out Kingston Wine, 7-4, in the loser's bracket semifinals, Ivy Inn earned another shot at Staats by defeating Simone's, 12-5, combining a home run by Rich Volz and strong hitting by Tony Pirone, George McVaugh and Sandvick. Ivy had to beat Staats twice to win the championship.

 Ivy started out on the right track by coming from behind to defeat Staats, 8-6, in the first game. Things looked grim at first as Staats jumped to a 5-0 lead in the first inning on hits by Doug Ruhlman, Jack Roberts, Chuck Schaub and a home run by Bob Lewis.

Ivy began to catch Staats in its half of the first inning, scoring two runs on consecutive hits by Bill McQuade, Tony Pirone, George McVaugh, Bucky Boccantuso and Bob Mucarelli. While Ivy nibbled at the Staats lead, its defense was impressive. Pitcher Tony Pirone and outfielder's Rich Volz and Bruce Sandvick continuously came up with fine plays. Ivy then tied the score, 5-5, on hits by Sandvick, McQuade and McVaugh, and added two runs in the fourth to take a 7-5 lead. The final was 8-6.

In the rubber game, both Ivy and Staats struck early as Ivy tallied in the first on doubles by McVaugh and Boccantuso. Staats countered with three runs in the first on shots by Hasson, Ruhlman, Roberts, Schaub and Cawley. Steve Perone's double highlighted Staats' second inning score as the Electricians maintained a 4-2 lead until the fourth inning when Ivy gained a 4-4 tie. In the bottom of the fifth, two costly errors set the stage for a three-run homer, by Jack Roberts to put Staats ahead for keeps, 7-4. Ivy Inn tallied a run in the sixth to complete the scoring.

UJB IN FIRST PLACE
 In Business Softball, United Jersey Banks won its third straight game for an undisputed hold on first place in the American Division of the Business Softball League last week, edging Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Labs, 8-7.
 Harry Gooding provided the icing on the cake with a home run following Dick Morbee's controversial long fly which turned into a three-run homer. Morbee had five RBI's on the night, and Lou Sepanski had a 3-3 batting record. Mel Rosenstien contributed a three-run homer for the losers to keep the game within reach.

Ken Potocki's two RBI's and a homer led Norelco to a 9-3 victory over American Cyanamid, and McGraw Hill downed American Cyanamid in a make-up game, 24-5. McGraw had 22 hits in 41 times at bat, with Mike Beauchemin's 3-3, two of which were homers, leading the way. Gary Jones also hit a perfect 4-4, and Joe Cyborski was 2-2 for the winners.

In the National Division, Firmenich swamped IDA, 8-1, as Bob Elkins pitched well and hit 2-3. Kevin Sassman equalled Elkins 2-3 night, with Bob Pagano contributing a homer and Tom Hummer hitting a three-bagger. Malcolm Rogers held ERC to five hits and no runs while contributing two hits in three trips to the plate in First National Bank of Princeton's 9-0 win over ERC. Tim Kearns was a strong 3-4 on the night, and Wes Cawley's 2-3 with a double and two RBI's made the difference in the strong defensive effort of First National.

Rain again caused the cancellation and rescheduling of many games so that the league is running about a week behind schedule and no clear-cut impression of the leaders is available. The future should make this clear, however, as the teams begin to double up in numbers of games played in a week.

JUNIOR MIDFIELDER: Stuart Brown, junior midfielder on the PHS team, will try to help the Little Tigers win final game Friday against Mooreslown.

STILL NO LUCK
 For PHS Stickmen. There are Cinderella teams and then there are those like the Princeton High School lacrosse team, which last week suffered its fifth one-goal defeat, this one in double overtime to Summit, 11-10.
 A sound team, Summit had defeated Hanover Park, 14-7, and Livingston 17-6, earlier this season. Bill Cirullo, PHS coach, reported that the Summit coach told him he couldn't believe it when Cirullo told him his team had a 3-8 record. "I can't believe it either," said Cirullo.

 At worst, the screw can be turned only twice more, as PHS will end its season Friday afternoon against visiting Mooreslown. The game was originally set for last Saturday but was postponed at Cirullo's request because of a PHS prom the night before.

The Little Tigers were scheduled to travel north to oppose Newton this Wednesday.

PHS, as it has in almost all its previous games, took an early 3-0 lead over Summit. The home team evened things at 4-4 by the first half and it was 9-9 at the end of regulation play.

In the second overtime, trailing 11-10, PHS had a chance to deadlock it again when Summit was forced to play the final minute and a half with one man in the penalty box and the final 45 seconds with two men down. But, the fates were not yet ready to release their hold.

"We had good shots on goal but they just missed. I guess it wasn't meant to be," sighed Cirullo.

MM Brothers Excell. The loss detracted from what would have been an outstanding game by the Mohrman brothers. Morgan, a sophomore, scored five goals and had one assist, the latter to his brother, Mace. The five goals was the season's high for a single player this year for PHS. Mace, in turn, had two goals and three assists — all to Morgan — as they combined for seven of the team's ten scores.

Alex Wert scored twice and Bill Cobb once for the beleaguered Little Tigers.

"We have two left and we'd like to finish with two strong wins," said Cirullo. No matter what the outcome, he agreed that he would remember this year. "I hope in future years we can turn these one-goal losses into wins—or at least split them."

At this point, even half a loaf seems good to PHS.

PHS ADVANCES

In Tennis Tournament. Competing this year in the Group 1 and 2 Central Jersey bracket, the Princeton High School tennis team, 11-1 in dual meet competition, advanced to the third round in the state tournament last week with a 4-0 victory over Ridge. PHS drew an opening round bye.

It was scheduled to meet Somerville this Wednesday at the PHS courts in the third round. If successful against Somerville, the Little Tigers' next opponent will be Bernards.

Against Ridge, Andre Eichenberger, Dan and Allen Aronovic all won singles matches and Dan Schulman and Steve Ebersole won in doubles play.

Earlier in the week, PHS defeated Trenton, 5-0, and Metuchen, 4-1. The latter was the only team to defeat the Blue and White in a dual match last year.

Allen Aronovic, Ebersole and Schulman all won easy singles matches against Trenton. Aronovic playing No. 1, while Malcolm Benjamin and Jeff Steinberg won the number one doubles, 6-0, 6-0. Trenton forfeited the second doubles match.

The only loser against Metuchen was Eichenberger in the No. 1 singles. He had to default his match when he became ill. "It was," summed up coach Bill Humes, "a good week for us."

FINAL PHASE BEGINS

For PDS Lacrosse Team. This has been a successful year for the Princeton Day School lacrosse team—10-3 overall and 7-0 in league play in the B Division. But coach Chuck Simpson and his Panthers want more.

PDS along with Montville, St. Joseph's and Edison will compete for the Division B State Championship. PDS had defeated all three in regular season play.

In one semi-final game, PDS was scheduled to oppose Montville this Wednesday afternoon at the PDS field. "I expect to win but I expect it to be close," said Simpson.

The state finals will be held Saturday noon at the Fairleigh Dickinson field. If PDS advances, it will meet the winner of the St. Joe's-Edison semi. Walker said that he believes it will be Edison, the team that gave the Panthers their toughest league test before bowing, 3-2.

PDS, seeded No. 1, is favored to win it all. The Division B State Championship would atone, in Simpson's opinion, for some injustices the past two years. A year ago, only two teams were picked to compete because of a scheduling problems. That left PDS out in the cold.

Two years ago, PDS was eliminated by Summit, a lacrosse "club" at the time and not a bona fide league member. That injustice still rankles Simpson.

Two Easy Wins. The Panthers closed out their regular season play last week with two lopsided victories, defeating IMPRESSIVE FRESHMAN: Allen Aronovic, PHS freshman, has been a consistent winner in tennis in singles play for the Little Tigers this season.

St. Joseph's, 16-2, and Hun School earlier, 16-1. Which may or may not be Simpson noted, a good way to prepare for a state tournament.

For the first three and one-half minutes against St. Joseph's, the game was scoreless. Then led by senior Jack Bonini, PDS exploded for six goals. "It was take the ball down and zip, zip, zip. It was beautiful lacrosse to watch," said Simpson who called it "probably the finest quarter of attack play I have ever seen at PDS."

"There was nothing more to say. We took it to them and they were out of it," continued Simpson, who reported the losers needed three quarters after PDS's surge to settle down and play lacrosse. Scoring for PDS: Dich Gordon, 4; Bonini, 3 and 3 assists ("he was busy"), Dave O'Conner, 3; Rob Olson, 3; and Billy Erdman and Jeb Burns, 1 each.

No Contest. Earlier, the expected battle between rival Hun and PDS never materialized. The Panthers led 6-0 after one period, and 11-1 at the half. All Hun could point to was a goal by Kevin Place.

Although it was Princeton Day's most decisive win ever over Hun, Simpson admitted that "in some ways it was disappointing." He was looking for a contest in the battle for the "Princeton Championship" (PDS had defeated Princeton High earlier in the season) and found none.

O'Conner with four goals led the rout, followed by Gordon and Erdman (three each) and Olson and Bonini (two each). Tommy Moore and Steve Judge added single tallies.

PHS VS. HIGHTSTOWN Final Game Tuesday. A disappointing season for first-year coach Jim O'Neill and the Princeton High School baseball team will end Tuesday when PHS will play host to Hightstown. Starting time is 3:45.

The Little Tigers will be at Steinert Friday afternoon.

It was more of the same last week for PHS as it dropped a 3-1 decision to Ewing Thursday and suffered a 5-3 loss the previous day against Hopewell Valley.

Ewing's Dan Forst held PHS to three hits, including Paul Soderman's run-scoring single in the first. Larry Howell doubled and Scott Thompson singled for Princeton's other two hits.

Vern Gregory and Jack Elder singled home runs off PHS hurler Dave Kodner, who went the distance. Kodner limited Ewing to five hits, walked five and struck out one. His record: 0-3.

Hopewell Valley scored four runs in the third to make a loser of Pete Watson for the fifth time this season. The Bulldogs bunched two walks, singles by Gary Hansen, Glenn McIntyre and Tom Olszak and a double steal for its runs.

PHS, trying to win two in a row for the first time this year, had jumped to a two-run lead in the first, capitalizing on two Hopewell errors and two hits, one a two-run single by Watson.

A towering lead-off double to deep center by Greg Robinson led to Princeton's third run in the sixth. John Madden relieved Watson; Bruce Eckmeder went all the way for Hopewell to pick up his fourth win. Both teams had five hits.
